

MILITIA TO GO DIRECT TO MEXICAN BORDER

NEW YORK AMONG FIRST TO GET UNDER WAY FOR FRONT

Cabinet Meeting Followed by Orders to Send Guardsmen Without Waiting For Mobilization at State Camps—All Units Above Peace Strength Believed to be Included in Sweeping Order Issued to General Wood.

Washington, June 23.—Following today's cabinet meeting, orders were sent to General Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East; Thomas Barry, commanding the Central Department, and J. Franklin Bell, commanding the western department, to send all militia under their jurisdiction to the border "as soon as they are ready."

These orders mean that instead of being held in mobilization camps in the various states they will be rushed to the border immediately upon being mustered into the service of the Federal government and will be whipped into shape in the field instead of camp.

Officials interpreted the orders to mean that the general situation along the Mexican frontier is more critical than the administration has cared to admit. It is understood here that only such units as are below peace strength or are short of necessary equipment will be held in mobilization camps in the various states.

The militia will go forward in units without waiting for the completion of the individual state mobilizations. It is understood here that General Wood and General Barry have been urged to get the New York and Illinois guard under way immediately if possible.

At the cabinet meeting, reports from General Funston showing the immediate necessity of strengthening his border guard at a number of points were received. He appealed urgently for cavalry and for experienced infantry, artillery and signal corps units which can be used at certain points, thus relieving regulars for any general offensive movement that may be planned.

It was decided that the commanders of the three departments within which the guard is mobilizing should be given a free hand to send the troops along. Generals Wood, Barry and Bell will be the judges of whether the troops are in shape to take the field and will be expected to lose no time in starting them south. Funston will designate their stations.

Reports that orders were about to be sent to the entire Atlantic fleet to steam to Mexican waters were denied by Secretary Daniels.

MEXICO IN APPEAL TO LATIN-AMERICA

Lima, Peru, June 23.—The Mexican government has appealed to all the nations of Central and South America for their support in the conflict with the United States, which it declares inevitable.

The Peruvian foreign office today received a note from Candido Aguilar, Mexican minister of foreign relations, in which he asserts that the methods used by the American government have made it impossible to avoid a conflict and points out that it is necessary to stop the aggression of the United States.

A reply was immediately sent by Peru. This expressed the hope that hostilities might be avoided.

In presenting the note at the foreign office, the Mexican minister stated that a similar document had been handed to all other governments that might be affected by a struggle.

SECRETARY BAKER SEES PRESIDENT

Washington, June 23.—Secretary of War Baker went into conference with President Wilson at 9:15 today. He said that he had received several dispatches from General Funston but refused to say whether they included any additional details of the Carrizal fight.

"There is nothing that I can make public at this moment," said the secretary.

Secretary Baker was with President Wilson twenty minutes. On leaving he said that he had discussed the legislative program before congress today. He said that the situation continues unchanged and that the administration is still awaiting a complete report of what took place at Carrizal.

When asked whether he had not received additional messages from General Funston urging that the movement of all the National Guard to the border be expedited, the secretary refused to answer.

"I did not discuss any plan for calling for volunteers," he said.

"There has been no change in policy and no new orders have been issued."

LED INTO AMBUSH, HEROIC TROOPERS MADE GAME FIGHT

El Paso, Texas, June 23.—Reports of a second battle between American and Mexican troops near Carrizal were received here today. They lacked official confirmation but were credited in some quarters. General Pershing is known to have sent two squadrons of the 11th Cavalry to the relief of the negro troopers of the 10th who were treacherously attacked on Wednesday, and it was considered probable that these reinforcements had already come in contact with the Carranzistas.

Between 6,000 and 7,000 Carranza troops are concentrated in the Carrizal district and border observers declared that General Jacinto Trevino's announcement that his troops would continue to attack American soldiers moving through the country meant that the warfare opened by the Carrizal ambush would continue.

While the entire border anxiously awaited news of further fighting, the details of General Pershing's first official report on the Carrizal conflict magnified the first vague story of Mexican treachery that reached the border and indicated clearly that the barbaric methods of Indian warfare were responsible for the ambush of the Americans.

Colored Troops Fought Nobly.

The official report showed how the heroic black troopers of the 10th Cavalry, trapped and almost helpless, fought for five hours against overwhelming numbers before they retreated to the nearby hills. From there the shattered force, carrying their wounded, began to make its way slowly back to the base at Colonia Dublan.

American officers here had predicted that the tone of Pershing's report would determine whether a new expedition should start into Mexico through Juarez. After reading the report they asserted that nothing could now stop this contemplated march.

"This can mean nothing but war," said one of the highest officials at El Paso. "It indicates beyond all doubt that the Mexicans are boldly defying President Wilson. In view of the attitude taken by the president in his latest note, I believe that within a few days there will come word to advance and a declaration of war."

Relief Party's Story.

Pershing's first report was based on the information brought him by four troopers who were present at the Carrizal fight. Mounted on the only horses left, the little command was sent at a killing pace to take word to headquarters and attempt to get relief. Here is the story told by their spokesman:

"We had been marching since early Wednesday morning when we reached the neighborhood of Carrizal. Captain Charles T. Boyd was riding ahead of the column. Just behind him was Captain Lewis S. More. Lieutenant Henry R. Adair was further back with the column. There were 65 men in the troop."

"From our position we could see some Mexican soldiers in the village. Captain Boyd sent forward a messenger under a flag of truce to ask permission to enter the town in search of the bandits that we were hunting. General Felix Gomez sent back word giving permission to enter."

Outnumbered Five to One.

"General Gomez himself rode out to meet Captain Boyd. Captain Boyd gave the word for the column to advance. We were just starting forward when we noticed Mexican troops pouring out from behind different kinds of shelter—adobe houses and the like—and deploying to the right and left. It was battle formation. From the first glance we saw that they outnumbered us at least five to one."

"Captain Boyd noticed their movements. To any soldier that sort of thing can mean only that an attack is about to begin. I saw Captain Boyd motion to the Mexicans and make some remark about it to Gomez. Gomez wheeled his mount around and signalled with his hands. Then he made a dash for his own lines."

"At the same moment a couple of machine guns, one at each end of the Mexican line, opened up on us. We were caught in our saddles in a very close range and we made good targets. I saw Captain Boyd fall. A moment later Captain More was wounded in the shoulder."

"Got" Gomez First Thing.

"Lieutenant Adair gave us the order to dismount. We got out of our saddles in a hurry. Then he told us to throw ourselves on our faces and return the fire. Someone got Gomez just as he was reaching his line. The next minute Lieutenant Adair was hit. Both he and Captain Boyd are dead, I believe.

"The machine guns were still going. I could hear the bullets whistling over us. Because of Lieutenant Adair's death, we saved a lot of men. But the horses didn't have the same luck. The bullets started to hit them and they were going down as if their legs were suddenly cut from under them. The others, stung by bullets and kicked by the dying horses, began to rear and plunge. The men in charge tried their best to hold them but they broke away. Some of the men were killed trying to save the mounts."

"When the horses got away we were marooned. We fought back and prevented the Mexicans from advancing in spite of their advantage in numbers and the machine guns. We began to fall back towards the hills as well as we could."

"We recovered four horses and then the four of us were sent here to report. We left the rest of the troops in the hills. The retreat was slow because of the wounded. The Mexicans kept following and firing but were kept away by the accurate rifle fire of our men."

Pershing Had Cautioned Men.

General Pershing's report of the trooper's story was forwarded with his explanation that all scouting parties were cautioned by him to be careful not to take any action that would precipitate a fight, but it is known that both the American and Carranza commanders now expect a battle to be fought at Villa Ahumada. The Mexicans are preparing to contest the march from Juarez to Chihuahua City—the movement that would be the center of an offensive.

For this reason, American officers view with suspicion the evacuation of Juarez by the majority of the Carranzistas. They suspect that somewhere in the hills back of Juarez the forces that left are being placed where they can best harass the American advance. It was even reported today that one body of Carranzistas had been sighted less than two miles from Juarez. The hills back of Juarez make an effective screen for such operations.

No Aeroplanes Available.

The advantage of an aeroplane in learning the disposition of these troops is obvious. But there are no aeroplanes at El Paso or Fort Bliss. The tactical strength of the Mexican move was commented on by American officers while watching the movements of the troops through field glasses high in the hills on the American side. From their position back of the hills the Mexicans would be out of range of the artillery that might be used to bombard Juarez. From there they would support the small body now left in Juarez proper and cover the retreat that would follow such a bombardment.

Fresh reports from all parts of the border indicate that the Mexicans are obtaining recruits by hundreds and arming them for battle. One report said that Francisco Villa was raising a new army to fight under the Carranza banner but this received little credence in military circles here.

Juarez itself is suddenly quiet. Americans who go to the Mexican end of the international bridge must go prepared to swallow insults or encounter the Carranza soldiery. It was necessary to call on the consular service to rescue an American newspaper man who was taken prisoner there late yesterday.

CARRIZAL SURVIVORS TELL OF MEXICAN TREACHERY

Seven of Ill-Fated Command Return to Headquarters and Tell How Machine Guns Cut Loose During Parley—Gallant Resistance put up by Americans.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Headquarters of the U. S. Army in Mexico, June 23, via Columbus, N. M., June 23.—Only seven of the United States troopers who took part in the fight with Mexicans at Carrizal have returned to camp thus far. They are unanimous in declaring that the American forces were victims of treachery.

The men who got back to camp were engaged in the battle as horse holders. They could tell nothing as to the fate of their comrades in Troops C and K of the Tenth Cavalry, but said it was possible that other survivors were trying to fight their way back to headquarters against overwhelming odds.

These facts were brought back from the field of action:

Troops C and K effected a junction at the San Domingo ranch Tuesday night and went into camp. Early Wednesday morning the Carranzista commander at Carrizal was asked to allow the Americans to pass. The Mexican commander returned answer that he had been ordered to allow no Americans to pass. Captain C. T. Boyd then sent another message he did not want to molest the Mexicans but only to get south of the place. The Carranzista commander asked for a parley.

Insert army headquarters. . . . . Other officers engaged in the fight in addition to Captain Boyd were Captain Lewis S. More and Lieut. Henry R. Adair. None of them has yet reported to General Pershing. The belief is strong that at least two-thirds of the command will turn up safe within 48 hours. One of the arrivals here was wounded.

While the parley was in progress, the Mexican troops began lining up in front and on both sides of the little band of Americans. Scenting treachery the Americans began to make preparations to defend themselves. They dismounted, but were not able to find shelter.

The attack came from three sides at once. The Mexicans had two machine guns which they used with deadly effect.

The seven horse holders had been ordered to withdraw some distance in order to protect the horses from bullets, but they got a fairly good view of the action.

The dismounted cavalymen were formed in a hollow square. After a fusillade from the machine guns, the Mexican cavalry which had been hidden, charged.

Volley after volley was sent into the ranks of the Mexicans, and many saddles were soon empty. Even many of the wounded Americans kept firing until they fainted from weakness.

The Mexicans were driven back several times, but their superior numbers soon told. The horse holders, seeing how the day was going, started for camp for help. In their accounts they dwell upon the remarkable coolness and bravery of the Americans.

Funston Awaits Report.

San Antonio, Tex., June 23.—General Funston is convinced that the battle of Carrizal was precipitated by Mexican treachery, but will await the extended official report from General Pershing before taking any action. In the meantime war preparations are proceeding rapidly here.

Dallas Battery A, Texas Field Artillery, entertained today for Brownsville. This force will be assigned to a post on the border by General Parker.

Forty carloads of pontoons arriving from Washington Barracks with the engineering corps will be held at Fort Sam Houston until needed for crossing rivers.

ALLIES TO RAISE GREEK BLOCKADE?

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Athens, June 23.—The blockade of Greece maintained by the allies and enforced by the allies is expected to be raised as a result of the demands of England, France and Russia by the Greek government.

Intimation that such action would be taken was given today by the ministers of the entente powers.

As soon as the demobilization of the Greek army is brought about, general elections will be held. In the meantime Alexandre Zaimis is acting as premier but it is believed that it will not be long until Eleutherios Venezelos, the most aggressive of the pro-ally leaders, is at the head of the government.

MEDIATION URGED UPON MEXICO BY FOREIGN POWERS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, June 23.—Two foreign governments have suggested to Chief Executive Carranza that he accept mediation to prevent war between the United States and Mexico. Their proposal has received earnest consideration by Carranza and his cabinet, but no decision has been reached.

European governments, as well as those of Central and South America, are bringing every possible influence to bear upon the de facto government to prevent an outbreak of hostilities.

According to semi-official information the two countries which have proffered mediation are Costa Rica and Salvador.

Officials of the war office today expressed confidence that the offer of amnesty to the revolutionists issued yesterday would be accepted by many leaders who are willing to abandon their personal aims for the common good. Not a single government leader will admit that there is danger of war with the United States, but all declare that any aggression on the part of the American soldiers will be met with force.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN POLICE COURT

One Boy Charged With Stealing a Bicycle and Two Others With Raising Disturbance on Franklin Street.

Today was children's day in recorder's court when three young lads ranging in age from nine to sixteen years were summoned to court to answer charges that had been made against them.

The first offender was Howard Whitaker, 16 years, old, who was arrested on Thursday afternoon by Sergeant Hanley on a warrant sworn out by James S. Fuller, who charged the boy with stealing a bicycle from in front of his residence on Albany avenue. The bicycle was found in the boy's possession but he claimed that he had not stolen it, but that another boy named Lester Michaux was the thief. A warrant was also issued for the Michaux boy but he had left town and gone to Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Whitaker appeared in court and pleaded that her boy be given another chance. The boy was also very repentant, and Recorder Lang decided to hold the case open until Monday.

The two other boys were not arrested, but had been notified to appear before the recorder. For some time past a gang of boys has been making life miserable for the residents of Franklin street and vicinity. The two boys were allowed to go. The recorder deciding to give them another chance provided they behaved themselves and kept away from the gang.

New York, June 23.—Mr. and Mrs. William K. Dick, the latter formerly Mrs. John Jacob Astor, arrived here this morning from Bar Harbor where they were married yesterday. They went at once to the residence of Mr. Dick to prepare for their departure this afternoon for Santa Barbara where they will spend their honeymoon.

On the trip from Bar Harbor the wedding guests occupied a private car while the bride and groom occupied two compartments in an ordinary Pullman. There was much rivalry among the waiters to serve Mr. and Mrs. Dick at dinner last night for there were visions of a huge tip. The lucky waiter got twenty cents.

PERSHING REPORT BEFORE CABINET

Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 23.—The war department this afternoon made public a report from General Pershing regarding the Carrizal fight in which it confirmed the press dispatches from the border that two of the Tenth Cavalry, C and K, were fired on during a parley by Mexican forces under General Gomez.

The report follows: "I have interviewed troopers from the 10th Cavalry who participated in action against the Mexicans under Gomez. They said that two of the Tenth Cavalry, C and K, of the 10th Cavalry, arrived on the night of June 20 at Ojo de Santo Domingo, a mile from Carrizal, where they were fired on during the morning of June 21."

Captain Boyd sent word to the command asking whether they could enter the town. General Pershing came out and said he would talk the matter over with them. They did converse for a while then Gomez walked to the right and the Mexican forces and the Mexicans began firing.

Cavalry has gone to the aid of troops C and K and to bring back the troops and their wounded. Secretary Baker said he would make a statement dealing with the fighting report later in the day. So no list of casualties to the Tenth has been received.

Men Sell Middletown Lunch.—Mons and Keefe of this city, conducted the S & K lunch on a street. Middletown, have sold to the George Vervan Company bookkeepers.

Think it Means Tenth.

According to National Guard officers the dispatches that militia units over peace strength would beyond question include the Tenth Regiment. It is believed that within a very few hours Governor Whitman will have acted on the federal government's request and named the regiments which are to go to the border.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN POLICE COURT

One Boy Charged With Stealing a Bicycle and Two Others With Raising Disturbance on Franklin Street.

Today was children's day in recorder's court when three young lads ranging in age from nine to sixteen years were summoned to court to answer charges that had been made against them.

The first offender was Howard Whitaker, 16 years, old, who was arrested on Thursday afternoon by Sergeant Hanley on a warrant sworn out by James S. Fuller, who charged the boy with stealing a bicycle from in front of his residence on Albany avenue. The bicycle was found in the boy's possession but he claimed that it had not stolen it, but that another boy named Lester Jitchaux was the thief. A warrant was also issued for the Jitchaux boy but he had left town and gone to Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Whitaker appeared in court and pleaded that her boy be given another chance. The boy was also very repentant, and Recorder Lang decided to hold the case open until Monday.

The two other boys were not arrested, but had been notified to appear before the recorder. For some time past a gang of boys has been making life miserable for the residents of Franklin street and vicinity. The two boys were allowed to go, the recorder deciding to give them another chance provided they behaved themselves and kept away from the gang.

BRIDEGROOM'S TH' 90 CENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Objects of Pullman Waiters' Rivalry.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, June 23.—Mr. and Mrs. William K. Dick, the latter formerly Mrs. John Jacob Astor, arrived here this morning from Bar Harbor where they were married yesterday. They went at once to the residence of Mr. Dick to prepare for their departure this afternoon for Santa Barbara where they will spend their honeymoon.

On the trip from Bar Harbor the wedding guests occupied a private car while the bride and groom occupied two compartments in an ordinary Pullman. There was much rivalry among the waiters to serve Mr. and Mrs. Dick at dinner last night for there were visions of a huge tip. The lucky waiter got thirty cents.

PERSHING REPORT BEFORE CABINET

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, June 23.—The war department this afternoon made public a report from General Pershing regarding the Carrizal fight in which it confirmed the press dispatches from the border that two troops of the Tenth Cavalry, C and K, were fired on during a parley of the Mexican forces under General Gomez.

The report follows: "I have interviewed troopers from the 10th Cavalry who participated in the action against the Mexicans under Gomez. They said that two troops under Captain Boyd and Captain More, C and K, of the 10th Cavalry, arrived on the night of June 20 at Ojo de Santo Domingo, one mile from Carrizal, where they arrived the following morning at 7:30.

"Captain Boyd sent word to the Mexican commander asking whether he could enter the town. General Gomez himself came out and said he wanted to talk the matter over with Boyd. They did converse for a while and then Gomez walked to the right of the Mexican forces and the Mexicans began firing.

"Cavalry has gone to the aid of troops C and K and to bring back those troops and their wounded." Secretary Baker said he would have a statement dealing with the Pershing report later in the day, so far, no list of casualties to the Tenth has been received.

The KITCHEN CABINET

OUT OF THE COOKY JAR.

Character is built out of circumstances. From exactly the same materials one man builds palaces, while another builds hovels.—G. H. Lewis.

Oatmeal in various forms is good for children, and when made into simple cakes without spice is wholesome and nutritious.

A point to be remembered when using oatmeal: If it is to be well digested it must be well cooked, and the time it takes to bake small cakes containing oatmeal is not sufficient to cook the meal so that it will be digested. Treat the oatmeal to a good, strong heat in the oven, stirring it as one did coffee in the old days, when it was browned at home. After this good baking it will be slightly brown. Then put it through the fine cutter of the meat grinder, and it is ready to use in cakes, and it will not be too much cooked if used in oatmeal bread.

Oatmeal Drops.—Take a cupful of butter and other shortening, mixed and softened; add a cupful of sugar, two eggs, two cupfuls each of flour and rolled oats, five tablespoonfuls of milk, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful each of salt and soda, mixed with the flour; one cupful each of raisins and walnuts, finely chopped. These may, by mixing, be put through the chopper easily. Drop the dough by half teaspoonfuls, two inches apart, on baking sheets, and bake in a moderate oven.

Scotch Cookies.—Take 2 1/2 cupfuls of oatmeal, prepared as for the drop cookies, two cupfuls of flour, adding another half cupful to use for rolling out the cookies, one cupful of sugar, two eggs well beaten, three tablespoonfuls of milk, three-quarters of a teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of butter, one-third of a cupful of beef drippings, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of spices, cinnamon, nutmeg, and clove mixed. Mix as usual, and set aside on ice, or even better, let stand over night before rolling out. A sharp cutter is needed for cutting these cookies.

Gingersnaps.—Take a cupful of Pot to Rico molasses, scald and cool it; add a half cupful of shortening, one-half teaspoonful each of soda and salt, one tablespoonful of finely chopped preserved ginger, flour to roll. Let this stand over night and roll out very thin. Garnish each cookie with a bit of ginger. These are delicious.

PINCHOT BLAMES "EL PASO LIAR" IN PEACE EFFORT

American Union Against Militarism
Telegraphs Leading Citizens on Both Sides of Border to Delay Hostilities—Bryan Among Others Invited to Mediation Conference.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, June 23.—In an eleven-hour attempt to prevent war between the United States and Mexico,
the American Union against militarism today took steps to hold a conference of representative American and Mexican citizens at El Paso to do all in their power to "delay hostilities, promote mediation and relieve conditions on the border."

The executive committee of the union, after an all-night session, invited the following to attend the conference:
Americans—William Jennings
Bryan, David Starr Jordan and Frank P. Walsh.

Mexicans—Dr. Atl, famous editor; Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the Biblioteca Nacional in Mexico City, and Modesto C. Rolland, a prominent engineer now in New York city.

The telegram to Mr. Bryan was as follows:
"The American Union against Militarism, believing that the people of the United States and the people of Mexico are deeply opposed to war, is asking three representative Americans to confer unofficially at El Paso with three representative Mexicans in an immediate effort to prevent war by delaying hostilities, promoting mediation and relieving conditions on the border. We earnestly appeal to you as a great leader in the world peace movement to help
the country in this crisis. We are inviting David Starr Jordan and Frank P. Walsh to join you as the American conferees and Dr. Atl, editor of Accion Mon-dal, of Mexico City, Senor Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the National Library at Mexico
City, and Mr. Modesto C. Rolland, of New York city, to represent Mexican public opinion.
The committee assumes traveling expenses for delegates.
Please wire answer naming earliest possible date when you could reach El Paso."

Pinchot Makes Statement.
Amos Pinchot, who presided at the conference, declared that the proposed commission would have behind it "the power of American public opinion as well, probably as that of Mexico." He continued:
"We have wired to President Wilson our belief that the American troops now in Mexico should be withdrawn and that a war arising from their continued presence there should be a national humiliation."
The American people don't want war. They have the deepest admiration for the patience, wisdom and imagination which the present administration has shown in dealing with the Mexican difficulties and they want him to go courageously as he has been doing.

"But the situation today is in the hands of the 'El Paso Liar' and of the military advisers of the administration. Together they can plunge
the country into war over night.
There is only one way to stop them,
and that is to have at El Paso a courageous unofficial civilian commission which can get at the facts, present them with fairness to both sides, and give the president and people of both countries a chance to avoid a wicked and senseless war."
The committee also sent a telegram to the embassies at Washington of the "A. B. C." powers urging them to press for mediation and also begging them to use their influence with General Carranza to avoid any hostilities or disorders which might lead to war.

NEW MOVE PUZZLES MILITARY CRITICS

Germans Launch Furious Offensive
in Champagne While Assaults on Verdun Are of Renewed Violence.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, June 23.—A powerful offensive movement has been launched by the Germans in Champagne and three strong infantry attacks were delivered last night on a 1,200 yard front at Maison de Champagne and Mont Tatu.

The war office stated today that all were repulsed.
But while the Germans were attacking in Champagne they were launching another series of furious assaults on the Verdun front.

Two attacks with grenades were delivered against the French position at Hill No. 304 on the left bank of the Meuse river, but the official communiqué states that both were repulsed.

On both sides of the Meuse, the Germans kept their big guns thundering all night, pouring a terrific storm of shells upon the first and second lines of the French between Verdun and Chattancourt and against the French positions west and south of Vaux.

The communiqué spoke of the German bombardment as violent, a term not employed unless the cannonade was to a perfect fury of shell fire.
Military critics are divided as to what the new offensive in Champagne means. Before the German infantry attacks were made the German battleships shelled the French lines for five hours. Some believe it is an attempt to draw French troops away from Verdun; others think it is an attempt to break through.

COMPANY M TODAY A SANITARY SQUAD

State Armory Looks as Though Goid
Dust Twins Had Captured Strong-
hold—Parade of Uptown Section
by Company This Evening—Other
Headquarters News.

The members of Company M this morning were given some experience in the heroic but none the less necessary part of military life that has to do with the elements of sanitation and neatness in camp life. Instead of drilling on Athletic Field
the men were put at work scrubbing the armory, from the cellar up, and then, for outdoor exercise, were set at work with scythes, sickles and rakes, clearing the grass from along the walks and the lot in the rear of the building, which someone seems to have been using as a dumping place for ashes and rubbish. The rubbish was buried, the ash heaps leveled and so much of the surrounding scenery as the state owns was given a thorough and needed fur-bishing up to match the spotless interior of the armory.

It is a matter of history that only one member of the company was stricken with sudden illness during this proceeding and he, according to the unwritten records of the armory, didn't find out he was really ill until one of the corporals handed him a pick and showed him where to use it on a specially hard looking spot of earth and stones. The sick man's condition is not regarded as critical.

Parade Uptown Tonight.

A splendid appearance was made Thursday night by the parade of the company through Rondout, the men being in fine condition and giving rise to considerable enthusiasm along the march. Tonight the line of march will be up Broadway to Albany and Clinton avenues, to Main, Fair, North Front and Wall streets, thence to Main street to Clinton and Albany avenues to Broadway and the Armory. One of the business men has interested himself in providing a musical escort which, it is hoped, will be available for tonight.
Thursday night several hundred people surged around the armory entrance and as many more were seated in the gallery upon the return of the guardsmen. The Tenth regiment march was sung and made a fine impression, drowning out the oratory which marked the organization of the Depot Company in the ante rooms.

An outpouring of people was due to a peculiar thing Thursday night when a message for Private Rasmussen was received.

"Rasmussen, Rasmussen," called out the corporal.
At this a lot of people started out.
One of them remarking as he went:
"That's a fine way to put people of a public building, yelling
'Raus mitt' em!'"

Campaign of Telegrams.

Today Major Chandler is inspecting the other three companies of his battalion, going to Poughkeepsie, Catskill and Hudson with Captain Cranston, medical examiner, for that purpose. The condition of the members of the other companies will be gone over carefully.

A campaign of telegrams to nearby villages such as Saugerties, Ellenville, Pine Hill has begun today by Captain Meagher, the different villages being asked for from five to 15 men to rally to the service of their country.

Gabriel Korosh of Kingston enlisted today.

Others accepted within the last 24 hours are: Harold Otis, Arthur T.
Fabar, Allen C. Brink, Thomas Mulbandian and Harry Bedrassi.
Last two are Armenians and fine appearing additions to the company.
Incidental today was the business of posing for photographs.

KAISER MAKING CHANGES?

Rome Hears of Removals of Two Field Marshals.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, June 23.—A sensational report that General von Falkenhayn and Field Marshal Conrad von Hottendorf have been removed from their posts as chiefs of the German and Austrian general staffs was received here today in a Rome wireless despatch. It added that General Schach, a German commander at Verdun, has been dismissed.

At the close of the big firemen's parade in Poughkeepsie on Thursday which brought the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association convention to a close, the judges awarded to the Exempt Firemen's Association of West New York, N. J., the prize of $25 for the company coming the longest distance, and the Norwalk Fire Department of Norwalk, Conn., the prize for the company with the most men in line. This company showed 148 men in line, but the judges counted only 110 as being similarly uniformed. In the drilling test only one company participated the Altamont Hose Company of Altamont, although four companies had signified their intention of taking part. The Altamont boys were awarded the $25 offered as prize so well executed was their drill.

After the parade Weiner Hose Company and the Cordts Hose Company were entertained at a clam bake by the Phoenix Hose Company of Poughkeepsie.

The KITCHEN CABINET

OUT OF THE COOKY JAR.

Character is built out of circumstances. From exactly the same materials one man builds palaces, while another builds hovels.—G. H. Lewis.

Oatmeal in various forms is good for children, and when made into simple cakes without spice is wholesome and nutritious. A point to be remembered when using oatmeal: If it is to be well digested it must be well cooked, and the time it takes to bake small cakes containing oatmeal is not sufficient to cook the meal so that it will be digested. Treat the oatmeal to a good, strong heat in the oven, stirring it as one did coffee, in the old days, when it was browned at home. After this good baking it will be slightly brown. Then put it through the fine cutter of the meat grinder, and it is ready to use in cakes, and it will not be too much cooked if used in oatmeal bread.

Oatmeal Drops.—Take a cupful of butter and other shortening, mixed and softened; add a cupful of sugar, two eggs, two cupfuls each of flour and rolled oats, five tablespoonfuls of milk, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful each of salt and soda, mixed with the flour; one cupful each of raisins and walnuts, finely chopped. These may, by mixing, be put through the chopper easily. Drop the dough by half teaspoonfuls, two inches apart, on baking sheets, and bake in a moderate oven.

Scotch Cookies.—Take 2 1/2 cupfuls of oatmeal, prepared as for the drop cookies, two cupfuls of flour, adding another half cupful to use for rolling out the cookies. One cupful of sugar, two eggs well beaten, three tablespoonfuls of milk, three-quarters of a teaspoonful of soda, one-half cupful of butter, one-third of a cupful of beef drippings, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of spices, cinnamon, nutmeg, and clove mixed. Mix as usual, and set aside on ice, or even better, let stand over night before rolling out. A sharp cutter is needed for cutting these cookies.

Gingersnaps.—Take a cupful of Pot to Rico molasses, scald and cool it; add a half cupful of shortening, one-half teaspoonful each of soda and salt, one tablespoonful of finely chopped preserved ginger, flour to roll. Let this stand over night and roll out very thin. Garnish each cookie with a bit of ginger. These are delicious.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 23, 1916.

It is all very well to raise a hue and cry about upholding the hands of the President but the fact remains that his course in the Mexican troubles is a legitimate subject for critical discussion the same as is any other executive course. The Democratic orators are a unit in proclaiming that all this Mexican difficulty was a legacy from a Republican administration which is about as near the truth as these gentry ever get. It is a matter of common knowledge as well as of record that Huerta came into power just a few weeks before the end of Mr. Taft's term as President and the latter, as was extremely proper, took no action in the premises but left it to his successor to take up Mexican matters with a free hand. President Wilson's intervention as a champion of constitutional government followed. For it was intervention and nothing else that the President followed in his refusal to recognize one government and his subsequent espousal of the cause of one of the warring Mexican factions. The gratitude of that faction, or for that matter of the average Mexican, is graphically portrayed in Secretary Lansing's five thousand word note to the first chief. "Quit or fight" was the substance of the United States reply which shows to what extreme lengths even Wilson diplomacy has been goaded.

Now the entire country is garbing itself in the panoply of war because of the embarrassing predicament in which the administration finds itself due to the demand of its erstwhile favorite factionist for the withdrawal of American troops. For some time past Carranza has been placing his soldiers at strategic points in northern Mexico and now he is on the eve of plunging his country into war with the hated "gringos" as a last desperate measure to preserve his own tottering prestige. It is a situation without precedent and one whose end no man can foresee. Any fool can prophesy but the fact remains that the National Guard has been called out, nominally to relieve the regular army on the border and actually for service as to whose eventual destination neither the President nor his advisers can furnish accurate information. There is nothing to relieve the awkwardness of the situation, there is no advance information as to the answer to be returned to our last note once that lengthy document has been transmitted, in Spanish, to that obstinate and vain old individual who styles himself the first chief. In his hands is the torch which may light the powder magazine on the Texas border. The next few hours will tell definitely whether or not the blood of thousands of young Americans will have to be sacrificed to extinguish the conflagration that would inevitably follow.

Now and then there is a refreshing reversion to old methods which must be disconcerting to the equilibrium of faddists whose efforts in the past two decades have resulted in a conglomeration of laws and customs which are indefensible in the light of reason. No field of activity is free from the faddist who is quite ready when one campaign is concluded to enter on another with a zest which reminds one of the old but truthful saying that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." Until human nature undergoes a distinct change there always will be faddists who insist that their particular hobby is for the best interests of humanity or that particular portion of humanity toward whose affairs their superfluous energy happens to be directed. At the present time the uplift movement is having its day and no faddist is entitled to consideration from any other faddist unless the fad is guaranteed to be for the uplift. Furthermore, the simon-pure uplift must be insistent and intolerant while denouncing the intolerance of those who refuse to subscribe to the particular uplift under consideration or adopt the uplifter's views. A silly fad which went into effect a number of years ago abolished punishment of unruly pupils in public schools except in conformity with stringent rules laid down by those who were in favor of governing by impractical suggestions but compromised on a plan which would offend nobody and take away from punishment the very purpose for which it is intended. Inexperience and possibly desperation drove the teaching force of Washington, Pa., to use the implements provided by law for punishing pupils in a manner never intended, with the result that the school board has issued an edict that hereafter when punishment is to be administered, teachers must "Spank the spot that mother did." Common sense usually reasserts itself in spite of fads.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Can you keep a secret?" "I am silent as the tomb." "I need to borrow some money." "Don't worry, old man. It is as though I never heard it."—Puck.

"Father, is a financier a man who can make a lot of money?" "No, my child, a financier is a man who can live on the income from a lot of money that he never had and has no reason to expect."—Judge.

"What makes you think your husband is coming back, Mandy? Have you heard from him?" "No'm, but Ah jes' knows somethin' gwine to happen. Ah broke a mirror dis mawnin'!"—Brownin's Magazine.

"Are you at work on a party platform?" "Yes. And it's a thankless sort of task. The only planks in party platforms that people are likely to recall are those that you might be just as well satisfied to have them forget."—Washington Star.

Caller—"Is Mrs. Blank at home?" Butler—"Physically, madam, she is. As an abstract question, the fact cannot be denied. But in relation to your desire to see her, I cannot say definitely until I have ascertained Mrs. Blank's wishes in the matter. Pray be seated until I receive advice from above."—Boston Transcript.

O'Ryan in Heaven.

One of Glasgow's public men is noted for two things—his quick wit and pride in his Celtic origin. He was walking down Sauchiehall street one fine evening with an Englishman, when the latter, looking at the sky, remarked: "How bright Orion is to night!" "A-r-h!" replied the other, "so that is O'Ryan, is it? Well, thank the Lord there's one Irishman in heaven, anyway!"—Argonaut.

Rummy Looking.

When John Buchanan was a broth of a boy he went to Paris, relates the Louisville Courier-Journal. That was two or three years ago. A seedy stranger accosted him. "Beg pardon, sir, but aren't you an American?" he asked. Proudly Mr. Buchanan acknowledged it, adding that he was from Crab Orchard. This so moved the stranger that he said he was from Kentucky, too, and it developed shortly that he was stranded in Paris, needed a dollar and got it. The next day Mr. Buchanan left the Continental again and another seedy stranger made the same touch in the same manner. That night "Uncle Johnny" addressed the maître d'hôtel on the subject. "Oh, there are hundreds of those fellows," said the functionary. "They make a good living on sympathetic Americans." The next morning Mr. Buchanan emerged again upon the Rue de Rivoli, and he had not traveled a square when a stranger approached. "Beg pardon, sir, but aren't you an American?" he inquired. Mr. Buchanan shrugged his shoulders actively and spread out his palms. "Je ne comprends pas," he ejaculated. "I need a dol," began the man. "Je n'avais pas d'Anglaise," volleyed Mr. Buchanan and tripped away, shrugging his shoulders violently. The party of the second part stood looking after him, dazed. Then this came down the breeze of that spring Parisian morning: "Well, I'm a ———. That's the rummiest looking Frenchman I ever saw in my life."

According to the Formula.

A tramp knocked at a kitchen door and said: "Please, kind lady, I'm a sick man. The doctor gimme this medicine, but I need something to take it with." The lady was ready to help. "Poor fellow!" she said. "do you want a spoon and a glass of water?" The tramp answered: "No mum, I wouldn't trouble you, but this medicine haster be took before meals. Have you got a meal handy?"—The Christian Herald.

Up Against It.

Elizabeth Marbury tells this story of her experiences while trying to find a manager who would produce the play, "The Optimist." "I don't think much of the title," was the first manager's protest. "Do you know what it means?" asked Mrs. Marbury. "Certainly," was the answer. "An optimist is a man who looks after the eyes, and a pessimist is a man who attends the feet." This reminded her of Wilton Lackaye's remark when asked if he had found a manager to produce "Les Miserables." "Found one to produce it?" he answered. "why, I haven't found one who could even pronounce it."—Boston Record.

"But it is a dark cloud, just the same," insisted the pessimist.—Exchange.

ROBERTS CASE ADJOURNED.

Further Hearing Before Surrogate Gill on July 6.

The hearing before Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court in the matter of the judicial settlement of the accounts of Frank B. Lown as executor of the estate of Dr. Charles H. Roberts of Oakes will be continued on July 6, an adjournment to that date being taken at the close of the hearing on Wednesday afternoon.

During the afternoon Harry Barker of Poughkeepsie, attorney for Executor Lown, continued his testimony regarding his services for the executor, for which his bill for $20,000 is being contested by the Roberts heirs. In regard to the sale of the personal property, he said that the family at first had desired that such property be offered at private sale instead of public sale, but when this had been determined to be impossible he had sent Auctioneer Sisson of Poughkeepsie to the Roberts house on two occasions, on both of which he had been unable to get in.

At this point, Miss Frances Roberts, who had made statements to her own counsel, Howard Chipp, and to Hon. Danforth E. Ainsworth, who is counsel for Mr. Barker, in regard to the testimony given by Mr. Barker as it was given, interrupted with the remark:

That's a ——— lie."

Miss Roberts also took exception to the statement of Mr. Barker, in regard to the time he was occupied with the Roberts estate, that Miss Frances Roberts had been in the habit of calling him on the telephone before he was out of bed in the morning and after he had gone to bed at night. On one occasion when he had visited the Roberts home early in the morning and remained there until four o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Roberts said she desired to correct his statement by asking him whether as a matter of fact he had not been at the house not to exceed an hour. She was told her counsel could ask all the questions she desired to have asked when Mr. Barker concluded his direct examination and should be turned over to Mr. Chipp for cross-examination.

If the company gets in Mexico, it is said that Secretary Canfield, of the Chamber of Commerce, will send some locate-in-Kingston literature to the Mexicans.

The correspondent heard some kind words for that big bunch of copies of The Freeman which was distributed among the boys each night. "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of Company M," is the verdict on The Freeman at the armory.

A dental clinic, or something to that effect, would be a big help toward getting the boys of Company M in condition. Just now dentists are booked pretty full with ordinary patronage, and the rush of work incident to the prospective departure of the militia is said to be considerable. As the men cannot be excused from drill, it is hard to sandwich in a date for the dentist and the latter fraternity may be asked to mobilize to meet requirements of the soldiers for the remainder of this week.

Tire tape is what the boys call the adhesive plaster which is doled out following foot inspection. This latter is a new wrinkle, started for the first time Wednesday night. It will be made at the end of each day by the officer of the day and while begun as an experiment will likely last. On the march, a man suffering from a blister on his foot is supposed to drop out after notifying the corporal, sit down and bandage the toe or foot with adhesive plaster.

For first aid in this work, a neat little "housewife" is included in each man's equipment and the pack includes needles, thread and a lot of other things beside adhesive plaster. Some of the boys will come back more familiar with the uses to which a needle can be put than they ever dreamed of before.

The C. O. (that means commanding officer) is said to be highly pleased with the quality of the recruits that have been accepted thus far.

Scene—Battalion Headquarters, State Armory; time 10 a. m.
Small boy appears at door of Major George Chandler, Third Battalion, Tenth Regiment.

"Dy'want to see the Major?" asked the orderly.

"Uh, huh."

"What's your name?"

"Chandler."

"Do you call him major?"—this from a newspaper man nearby.

"Na-aw," came in a scornful tone which showed that there is no danger of militarism invading the home in this country at least. It developed that plain "Dad" is the sobriquet enjoyed by the Major when the junior commanding officer issues orders at the home camp.

Pocket Testaments For Soldiers.

There is a movement on foot in this city to provide the soldier boys of Company M with a parting souvenir in the shape of a Pocket League Testament. These little Testaments will fit the vest pocket, and weigh but little over two ounces. The print is excellent, and there are a few good colored pictures. There can be no doubt, judging by many a story from the front of the European war, that the reading of the Testament has given new life and hope to thousands of the soldiers abroad. Then, too, in several instances the carrying of the book has been a life preserver, the book itself stopping or diverting a missile that otherwise would have penetrated the wearer's body. Already a neat little sum has been contributed with which to purchase these Testaments to be given to our Company M boys. William M. Langdon is now in Kingston, stopping at 180 Albany avenue, in the interest of this movement, and any persons or organizations wishing to contribute funds toward the purchase of these books as parting gifts either for our own Company M or others of the Tenth New York Infantry, should communicate with Mr. Langdon. The telephone call is 1249-W.

PINCHOT BLAMES "EL PASO LIAR" IN PEACE EFFORT

American Union Against Militarism
Telegraphs Leading Citizens on Both Sides of Border to Delay Hostilities—Bryan Among Others Invited to Mediation Conference.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, June 23.—In an eleven-hour attempt to prevent war between the United States and Mexico, the American Union against militarism today took steps to hold a conference of representative American and Mexican citizens at El Paso to do all in their power to "delay hostilities, promote mediation and relieve conditions on the border."

The executive committee of the union, after an all-night session, invited the following to attend the conference:

Americans—William Jennings Bryan, David Starr Jordan and Frank P. Walsh.

Mexicans—Dr. Atl, famous editor; Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the Biblioteca Nacional in Mexico City, and Modesto C. Roldan, a prominent engineer now in New York City.

The telegram to Mr. Bryan was as follows:

"The American Union against Militarism, believing that the people of the United States and the people of Mexico are deeply opposed to war, is asking three representative Americans to confer unofficially at El Paso with three representative Mexicans in an immediate effort to prevent war by delaying hostilities, promoting mediation and relieving conditions on the border. We earnestly appeal to you as a great leader in the world peace movement to help the country in this crisis. We are inviting David Starr Jordan and Frank P. Walsh to join you, as the American conferees and Dr. Atl, editor of Accion Mundial, of Mexico City, Senor Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the National Library at Mexico City, and Mr. Modesto C. Roldan, of New York City, to represent Mexican public opinion. The committee assumes traveling expenses for delegates. Please write answer naming earliest possible date when you could reach El Paso."

Pinchot Makes Statement.

Amos Pinchot, who presided at the conference, declared that the proposed commission would have behind it "the power of American public opinion as well, probably as that of Mexico." He continued:

"We have wired to President Wilson our belief that the American troops now in Mexico should be withdrawn and that a war arising from their continued presence there could be a 'national humiliation.' The American people don't want war. They have the deepest admiration for the patience, wisdom and imagination which the present administration has shown in dealing with the Mexican difficulties and they want him to go courageously as he has been doing."

"But the situation today is in the hands of the 'El Paso Liar' and of the military advisers of the administration. Together they can plunge the country into war over night. There is only one way to stop them, and that is to have at El Paso a courageous unofficial civilian commission which can get at the facts, present them with fairness to both sides, and give the president and people of both countries a chance to avoid a wicked and senseless war."

The committee also sent a telegram to the embassies at Washington of the "A. B. C." powers urging them to press for mediation, and also begging them to use their influence with General Carranza to avoid any hostilities or disorders which might lead to war.

NEW MOVE PUZZLES MILITARY CRITICS

Germans Launch Furious Offensive
in Champagne While Assaults on Verdun Are of Renewed Violence.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, June 23.—A powerful offensive movement has been launched by the Germans in Champagne and three strong infantry attacks were delivered last night on a 1,200 yard front at Maison de Champagne and Mont Tatu.

The war office stated today that all were repulsed.

But while the Germans were attacking in Champagne they were launching another series of furious assaults on the Verdun front.

Two attacks with grenades were delivered against the French position at Hill No. 304 on the left bank of the Meuse river, but the official communique states that both were repulsed.

On both sides of the Meuse, the Germans kept their big guns thundering all night, pouring a terrific storm of shells upon the first and second lines of the French between Erzy and Chataucourt and against the French positions west and south of Vaux.

The communique spoke of the German bombardment as violent, a term not employed unless the cannonade rises to a perfect fury of shell fire.

Military critics are divided as to what the new offensive in Champagne means. Before the German infantry attacks were made the German batteries shelled the French lines for twelve hours. Some believe it is an effort to draw French troops away from Verdun; others think it is an attempt to break through.

COMPANY M TODAY A SANITARY SQUAD

State Army Looks as Though Gold Dust Twins Had Captured Strong-
hold—Parade of Uptown Section
by Company This Evening—Other
Headquarters News.

The members of Company M this morning were given some experience in the unheroic but none the less necessary part of military life that has to do with the elements of sanitation and neatness in camp life. Instead of drilling on Athletic Field the men were put at work scrubbing the armory, from the cellar up, and then, for outdoor exercise, were set at work with scythes, sickles and rakes, clearing the grass from along the walks and the lot in the rear of the building, which someone seems to have been using as a dumping place for ashes and rubbish. The rubbish was buried, the ash heaps leveled and so much of the surrounding scenery as the state owns was given a thorough and needed refurbishing up to match the spotless interior of the armory.

It is a matter of history that only one member of the company was stricken with sudden illness during this proceeding and he, according to the unwritten records of the army, didn't find out he was really ill until one of the corporals handed him a pick and showed him where to use it on a specially hard looking spot of earth and stones. The sick man's condition is not regarded as critical.

Parade Uptown Tonight.

A splendid appearance was made Thursday night by the parade of the company through Rondout, the men being in fine condition and giving rise to considerable enthusiasm along the march. Tonight the line of march will be up Broadway to Albany and Clinton avenues, to Main, Fair, North Front and Wall streets, thence to Main street to Clinton and Albany avenues to Broadway and the Armory. One of the business men has interested himself in providing a musical escort which, it is hoped, will be available for tonight.

Thursday night several hundred people surged around the armory entrance and as many more were seated in the gallery upon the return of the guardsmen. The Tenth regiment march was sung and made a fine impression, drawing out the oratory which marked the organization of the Depot Company in the ante rooms.

An outpouring of people was due to a peculiar thing Thursday night when a message for Private Rasmussen was received.

"Rasmussen, Rasmussen," called out the corporal.

At this a lot of people started out, one of them remarking as he went:

"That's a fine way to put people of a public building, yelling 'Raus mitt' em!'"

Campaign of Telegrams.

Today Major Chandler is inspecting the other three companies of his battalion, going to Poughkeepsie, Catskill and Hudson with Captain Cranston, medical examiner, for that purpose. The condition of the members of the other companies will be gone over carefully.

A campaign of telegrams to nearby villages such as Saugerties, Ellenville, Pine Hill was begun today by Captain Meagher, the different villages being asked for from five to 15 men to rally to the service of their country.

Gabriel Korosh of Kingston enlisted today.

Others accepted within the last 24 hours are: Harold Otis, Arthur T. Faber, Allen C. Brink, Thomas Mulbaundian and Harry Bedrassi. Last two are Armenians and fine appearing additions to the company. Incidental today was the business of posing for photographs.

Communion For Lutherans.

The seven members of Company M who are also members of the Spring Street German Lutheran Church and the members of Company M who are members of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will receive Holy Communion in the Spring Street German Lutheran Church, the Rev. A. Schmidt, pastor, on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The parents and friends of the soldiers are invited to attend the service.

KAISER MAKING CHANGES?

Field Marshals.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, June 23.—A sensational report that General von Falkenhayn and Field Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorf have been removed from their posts as chiefs of the German and Austrian general staffs was received here today in a Rome wireless despatch. It added that General Schach, a German commander at Verdun, has been dismissed.

At the close of the big firemen's parade in Poughkeepsie on Thursday which brought the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association convention to a close, the judges awarded to the Exempt Firemen's Association of West New York, N. J., the prize of $25 for the company coming the longest distance, and the Norwalk Fire Department of Norwalk, Conn., the prize for the company with the most men in line. This company showed 143 men in line, but the judges counted only 110, as being similarly uniformed. In the drilling test only one company participated the Altamont Hose Company of Altamont, although four companies had signified their intention of taking part. The Altamont boys were awarded the $25 offered as prize so well executed was their drill.

After the parade Weiner Hose Company and the Cordis Hose Company were entertained at a clambake by the Phoenix Hose Company of Poughkeepsie.

It will make women think.
It will make them think hard.
It will make them look before they leap. It will act as a warning to young girls.

Read what Marion Moore said in last Sunday's Albany, N. Y., Telegram.

"I have been thinking of Marion Lambert and my thoughts have been deeper since witnessing the motion picture 'Where Are My Children?' This picture has a lot of food for thought. I've wondered if Marion Lambert had seen it before she met Will Orpet. If her tragic story would now be in the course of writing in the criminal history of the Middle West."

Christianity can not withhold its approval of this start-

HOW FLAT FOOT MAY BE CURED

"Flat foot," or fallen arches, is not peculiar to Kingston men. All
cities suffer from the complaint,
which is attracting particular attention at the present time because of
the number of applicants for military service who are being rejected
on account of it. Fallen arches
when they reach an advanced stage
are extremely painful and prevent
a person from walking more than a block or two without feeling the effect, which shows itself in forced
limping, and if walking is continued without pausing for rest, the sufferer often becomes temporarily
incapacitated.

Arch supports and built-up shoes
afford relief, and sometimes entirely
restore the arches of the feet to their natural conditions, but the best
remedy is to strengthen the muscles
of the arch, which may be done by proper exercise which, if faithfully
followed, results in complete
restoration of the arches. The exercise prescribed by a noted New York
physician a number of years ago
was adopted about a year ago by
medical examiners of the New York
city police department, where fallen
arches were found to be a general
complaint among the patrolmen on account of the long time they are
on their feet during the day.

The instructions for the cure are simple. The person suffering from them should stand with toes pointed inward, and heels spread apart, and
rise slowly on the toes, to the full height, then lowering himself until
his heels touch the floor, and repeating the exercise. The exercise
should be taken night and morning,
in bare feet or stocking feet. Rising
on the toes and then slowly lowering the body should be practiced
about twenty times each morning
and night for a few days, and then
the number of times the exercises
is repeated may be increased. Good results often are obtained within a week, and in a month the muscles
will be found to have become strengthened to a degree which will enable a long walk to be taken without pain.

BOBWHITE

(Gallinago virginianus)

Length, ten inches. Known everywhere by the clear whistle that suggests its name.

Range: Resident in the United States east of the plains; introduced
in many places in the West.

Habits and economic status: The
bobwhite is loved by every dweller in
the country and is better known to
more hunters in the United States
than any other game bird. It is no less appreciated on the table than in the field, and in many states has unquestionably been hunted too closely.
Fortunately it seems to be practicable
to propagate the bird in captivity,
and much is to be hoped for in this direction. Half the food of this quail
consists of weed seeds, almost a fourth
of grain, and about a tenth of wild
fruits. Although thus eating grain,
the bird gets most of it from stub-
ble. Fifteen per cent of the bobwhite's
food is composed of insects, including several of the most serious pests
of agriculture. It feeds freely upon
Colorado potato beetles and chinch
bugs; it devours also cucumber beetles, wireworms, billbugs, clover-leaf
weevils, cotton-boll weevils, army
worms, bollworms, cutworms, and Rocky mountain locusts. Take it all in all, bobwhite is very useful to the farmer, and while it may not be necessary to remove it from the list of game birds every farmer should see
that his own farm is not depleted by eager sportsmen.

so she can gossip with people further away."—Kansas City Journal.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 23, 1916.

It is all very well to raise a hue and cry about upholding the hands of the President but the fact remains that his course in the Mexican troubles is a legitimate subject for critical discussion the same as is any other executive course. The Democratic orators are a unit in proclaiming that all this Mexican difficulty was a legacy from a Republican administration which is about as near the truth as these gentry ever get. It is a matter of common knowledge as well as of record that Huerta came into power just a few weeks before the end of Mr. Taft's term as President and the latter, as was extremely proper, took no action in the premises but left it for his successor to take up Mexican matters with a free hand. President Wilson's intervention as a champion of constitutional government followed. For it was intervention and nothing else that the President followed in his refusal to recognize one government and his subsequent espousal of the cause of one of the warring Mexican factions. The gratitude of that faction, or for that matter of the average Mexican, is graphically portrayed in Secretary Lansing's five thousand word note to the first chief. "Quit or fight" was the substance of the United States reply which shows to what extreme lengths even Wilson diplomacy has been goaded.

Now the entire country is garbing itself in the panoply of war because of the embarrassing predicament in which the administration finds itself due to the demand of its erstwhile favorite factionist for the withdrawal of American troops. For some time past Carranza has been placing his soldiers at strategic points in northern Mexico and now he is on the eve of plunging his country into war with the hated "gringos" as a last desperate measure to preserve his own tottering prestige. It is a situation without precedent and one whose end no man can foresee. Any tool can prophesy but the fact remains that the National Guard has been called out, nominally to relieve the regular army on the border and actually for service as to whose eventual destination neither the President nor his advisers can furnish accurate information. There is nothing to relieve the awkwardness of the situation, there is no advance information as to the answer to be returned to our last note once that lengthy document has been transmitted, in Spanish, to that obstinate and vain old individual who styles himself the first chief. In his hands is the torch which may light the powder magazine on the Texas border. The next few hours will tell definitely whether or not the blood of thousands of young Americans will have to be sacrificed to extinguish the conflagration that would inevitably follow.

Now and then there is a refreshing reversion to old methods which must be disconcerting to the equilibrium of faddists whose efforts in the past two decades have resulted in a conglomeration of laws and customs which are indefensible in the light of reason. No field of activity is free from the faddist who is quite ready when one campaign is concluded to enter on another with a zest which reminds one of the old but truthful saying that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." Until human nature undergoes a distinct change there always will be faddists who insist, at their particular hobby for the best interests of humanity or that particular portion of humanity toward whose affairs their superfluous energy happens to be directed. At the present time the uplift movement is having its day and no faddist is entitled to consideration from any other faddist unless the fad is guaranteed to be for the uplift. Furthermore, the simonpure uplifter must be insistent and intolerant while denouncing the intolerance of those who refuse to subscribe to the particular uplift under consideration or adopt the uplifter's views. A suit fad which went into effect a number of years ago abolished punishment of unruly pupils in public schools except in conformity with stringent rules laid down by those who were in favor of governing by impractical suggestions but compromised on a plan which would offend nobody and take away from punishment the very purpose for which it is intended. Inexperience and possibly desperation drove the teaching force of Washington, Pa., to use the implements provided by law for punishing pupils in a manner never intended, with the result that the school board has issued an edict that hereafter when punishment is to be administered, teachers must "Spank the spot that mother did." Common sense usually reasserts itself in spite of fads.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Can you keep a secret?" "I am silent as the tomb." "I need to borrow some money." "Don't worry, old man. It is as though I never heard it."—Puck.

"Father, is a financier a man who can make a lot of money?" "No, my child, a financier is a man who can live on the income from a lot of money that he never had and has no reason to expect."—Judge.

"What makes you think your husband is coming back, Mandy? Have you heard from him?" "No'm, but Ah jess' knows somethin' gwine to happen. Ah broke a mirror dis mawnin'!"—Browning's Magazine.

"Are you at work on a party platform?" "Yes. And it's a thankless sort of task. The only planks in party platforms that people are likely to recall are those that you might be just as well satisfied to have them forget."—Washington Star.

Caller—"Is Mrs. Blank at home?" Butler—"Physically, madam, she is. As an abstract question, the fact cannot be denied. But in relation to your desire to see her, I cannot say definitely until I have ascertained Mrs. Blank's wishes in the matter. Pray be seated until I receive advice from above."—Boston Transcript.

O'Ryan in Heaven.

One of Glasgow's public men is noted for two things—his quick wit and pride in his Celtic origin. He was walking down Sauchiehall street one fine evening with an Englishman, when the latter, looking at the sky, remarked: "How bright Orion is to night!" "A-h-h!" replied the other, "So that is O'Ryan, is it? Well, thank the Lord there's one Irishman in heaven, anyway!"—Argonaut.

Rummy Looking.

When John Buchanan was a broth of a boy he went to Paris, relates the Louisville Courier-Journal. That was two or three years ago. A seedy stranger accosted him. "Beg pardon, sir, but aren't you an American?" he asked. Proudly Mr. Buchanan acknowledged it, adding that he was from Crab Orchard. This so moved the stranger that he said he was from Kentucky, too, and it developed shortly that he was stranded in Paris, needed a dollar and got it. The next day Mr. Buchanan left the Continent again and another seedy stranger made the same touch in the same manner. That night "Uncle Johnny" addressed the maitre d'hotel on the subject. "Oh, there are hundreds of those fellows, m'sieu," said the functionary. "They make a good living on sympathetic Americans." The next morning Mr. Buchanan emerged again upon the Rue de Rivoli, and he had not traveled a square when a stranger approached. "Beg pardon, sir, but aren't you an American?" he asked. Mr. Buchanan shrugged his shoulders actively and spread out his palms. "Je ne comprends pas," he ejaculated. "I need a dol—" began the man. "Je n'aurais pas d'Anglais," voluted Mr. Buchanan and tripped away, shrugging his shoulders eloquently. The party of the second past looked after him, dazed. Then this came down the breeze of that spring Parisian morning: "Well, I'm a——— That's the rummiest looking Frenchman I ever saw in my life."

According to the Formula.

A tramp knocked at a kitchen door and said: "Please, kind lady, I'm a sick man. The doctor gimme this medicine, but I need something to take it with." The lady was ready to help. "Poor fellow!" she said. "do you want a spoon and a glass of water?" The tramp answered: "No mum, I wouldn't trouble you. But this medicine haster be took before meals. I have you got a meal hand?"—The Christian Herald.

Up Against It.

Elizabeth Marbury tells this story of her experiences while trying to find a manager who would produce the play, "The Optimist." "I don't think much of the title," was the first manager's protest. "Do you know what it means?" asked Mrs. Marbury. "Certainly," was the answer. "An optimist is a man who looks after the eyes, and a pessimist is a man who attends the feet." This reminded her of Wilton Lackaye's remark when asked if he had found a manager to produce "Les Miserables." "Found one to produce it?" he answered. "Why, I haven't found one who could even pronounce it."—Boston Record.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Mrs. Bridget Brennan died suddenly in Jockey Hill.

The Point of View.

"The darkest cloud has a silver lining," remarked the optimist. "But it is a dark cloud, just the same," insisted the pessimist.—Exchange.

ROBERTS CASE ADJOURNED.

Further Hearing Before Surrogate Gill on July 6.

The hearing before Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court in the matter of the judicial settlement of the accounts of Frank B. Lown as executor of the estate of Dr. Charles H. Roberts of Oakes will be continued on July 6, an adjournment to that date being taken at the close of the hearing on Wednesday afternoon.

During the afternoon Harry Barker, of Poughkeepsie, attorney for Executor Lown, continued his testimony regarding his services for the executor, for which his bill for $20,000 is being contested by the Roberts heirs. In regard to the sale of the personal property, he said that the family at first had desired that such property be offered at private sale instead of public sale, but when this had been determined to be impossible he had sent Auctioneer Sisson of Poughkeepsie to the Roberts home on two occasions, on both of which he had been unable to get in.

At this point, Miss Frances Roberts, who had made statements to her own counsel, Howard Chipp, and to Hon. Danforth E. Ainsworth, who is counsel for Mr. Barker, in regard to the testimony given by Mr. Barker as it was given, interrupted with the remark:

That's a——— lie."

Miss Roberts also took exception to the statement of Mr. Barker, in regard to the time he was occupied with the Roberts estate, that Miss Frances Roberts had been in the habit of calling him on the telephone before he was out of bed in the morning and after he had gone to bed at night. On one occasion when he had visited the Roberts home early in the morning and remained there until four o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Roberts said she desired to correct his statement by asking him whether as a matter of fact he had not been at the house not to exceed an hour. She was told her counsel could ask all the questions she desired to have asked when Mr. Barker concluded his direct examination and should be turned over to Mr. Chipp for cross-examination.

Alligerville, June 22.—Rev. Mr. Wolven has entered upon his duties as pastor of the M. E. Church.

It is with regret that we learn that Miss Garrison, who has so efficiently served us in the capacity as teacher for our school for the past three years, has resigned her position for the coming year. She will be greatly missed by young and old both in church and school work. We understand that she expects to enter normal school in September, and the best wishes of her many friends go with her in her new work.

C. Christiana of Mohonk Lake, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Simon Landers.

The Ladies' Social Union of the M. E. Church are making a number of improvements on the interior of the parsonage.

LACKAWACK.

Lackawack, June 22.—The storm Sunday did quite some damage here, broke one of the big glass windows in Stangle's store, and blew the two large trees down in Eddie Barthel's yard, breaking the roof quite badly.

Rubie Eck caught a fine trout one night last week 25 inches long and weighed 7 1/2 pounds.

The state road is torn up from the county line to below the Lackawack House.

Charles Black was buried from his home in Naponoch on June 13. He leaves a wife and two children.

WAR GRAFT CASES EXCITE RUSSIANS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Petrograd, June 23.—The report of the commission which investigated the charges against the former war minister General Soukhomlinoff is creating tremendous excitement. A number of peasants delegates from the provinces have arrived here to demand the execution of the ex-minister and his wife. This demand is supported by the labor unions and almost all political organizations.

The commission appointed for the investigation by the Imperial Council consisted of the Senators Sogorowski and Kusmin and Col. Nosovitch, the prosecuting officer of the military court of Moscow, and has been at work four months.

The commission states that General Soukhomlinoff received enormous bribes from army contractors. He had organized a regular and extensive system of graft. His principal aides were Ivan Hoshkewitch, an engineer and relative of his wife, a married couple by the name of Aktschler, a certain Maxim Weber, a Mrs. Anna Aurich and the notorious Rzewski whose intimate relations with the former minister of the interior Chwostow caused the downfall of the latter. Rzewski has made a partial confession.

The statements made by Rzewski have also connected Gen. Soukhomlinoff with the activities of Lieutenant Colonel Mjassjedow, who was executed some time ago for treason. The commission charges the ex-minister with high treason and states that he drove the country into war, so as to be able to graft on a larger scale than before.

This charge is based on the fact that the general, in the presence of Lieutenant Colonel Mjassjedow, dictated an article to Rzewski which was published by the "Birshevijskaja Wiedomosti" under the title: "We Are Ready" about two weeks before the outbreak of the war.

The article was at once telegraphed to France and England and helped to stir up war sentiment in these countries. In Russia it caused a wave of war spirit.

The court clique, dominated by the monk Rasputin is doing its utmost to save the indicted general, but he will probably have to pay penalty for his crimes, because the power and influence of his friends has diminished greatly since the details of the incredible scandal became known.

Gen. Soukhomlinoff was honest it is believed, until he became commander of the garrison of Kiel. Here he made the acquaintance of a number of doubtful characters who gained great influence over him. These criminals and conspirators introduced him to the beautiful woman who is now his wife and who has caused his downfall.

After his marriage his wife obtained large army contracts for her friends and shared the profits with them. When he was appointed war minister the clique followed him to Petrograd and reaped a golden harvest. Through extravagant living he got deeply into debt and finally started to graft himself.

Col. Hasaoidol, who has been executed for treason, was known as the most intimate friend of Mrs. Soukhomlinoff and one newspaper openly states that closer relations than mere friendship existed between the two.

When the colonel was arrested police found letters in his possession which left no doubt that the wife of the war minister was also guilty of treason. At that time all Russia demanded the execution of the woman, but Rasputin and the former prime minister Goremykin protected her and she was only banished to Southern Russia. Within three months she returned to Petrograd to resume her interrupted grafting operations with the aid of her husband.

UNIVERSAL WINS A ROAD ROLLER CASE

Oltarsch Construction Company Cannot Regain Possession of Machinery Now in Custody of Rockland County Sheriff, Rules Court.

Judge Hasbrouck has handed down
a decision in the case of the Universal Road Machinery Company against the Brady Oltarsch Construction Company, which was argued before him last Saturday on a motion by the plaintiff to vacate proceedings taken by the construction company to re-bend in a replevin action. Judge Hasbrouck grants the motion of the Universal, his opinion being as follows:

The plaintiff made a conditional sale or lease in writing of a crushing plant to the defendant August 28, 1915. Among the conditions was the following:

"6. No note, draft, check or similar instrument, given or accepted on account of any payment or sum due hereunder, shall except at the option of the lessor, be deemed to be a payment nor in any way diminish or alter the rights of the lessor hereunder, unless paid when due.

"7. In case the lessee fails, etc., the * * * then * * * amounts * * * shall immediately become due * * * amounts already paid * * * considered as rent and the lessor * * * may * * * retake said property * * * and resell the same * * * proceeds * * * to be applied upon the amount still due under the contract."

The defendant made default in the payment of certain notes given the plaintiff under the agreement aforesaid, and the plaintiff on about the second day of May, 1916, sued the defendant thereon. Subsequently and on or about June 3, plaintiff having demanded said chattels of the defendant, and the return thereof having been refused, plaintiff brought suit in replevin and by the sheriff of Rockland county replevied the same.
On the fifth day of June the defendant served upon the said sheriff a demand for the return of the said property, an affidavit and an undertaking giving notice of the justification of the sureties. Then the plaintiff made the motion on hearing by an order to show cause containing a stay of the justification.

The contention of the plaintiff is that the defendant's affidavit of ownership or possession is insufficient.
The affidavit states the right to possession by virtue of the contract and the breach of the guarantee therein contained, the damages resulting from such breach and the payment of the sum of $1,270 upon the purchase price. The defendant claims that such payment and the damages amount to more than the purchase price of the chattels. When one considers that the defendant by his agreement has stipulated away in express terms any right of possession it may have had except such as might arise out of full payment of the purchase price in money, it is clear the terms of subdivision 2 of section 1704 of the code have not been complied with.

Depew v. Leal, 2 Abb. Pr., 137.
The contention that a claim for a breach of guarantee amounts to the payment called for by the contract, is not satisfactory. The general statement of ownership added to the defendant's affidavit verified June 3, does not change the situation, for the affidavit possesses a fatal inconsistency.

Tuthill v. Skidmore, 124, N. Y., 155.

Under the contract above quoted
the plaintiff did not deprive himself

of the right to institute a possessory action because of theretofore having brought an action upon notes given in payment.

Ratchford v. Cayuga Co., 159
App. Div., 528.

The contract upon which the decision turned does not contain the provisions which have influenced the determination in the case at bar.

Motion granted with $10 costs.
Alfred D. Van Buren appeared for the Universal Road Machinery Company and the motion; Alvin T. Sapin-sky of New York city appeared for the construction company and opposed.

PETROLEUM PRODUCT IN EAST.

U. S. Figures Show Nearly Fifty Per Cent of Wells Barren.

The output of petroleum in the Appalachian field, which includes the areas of oil production in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and southeastern Ohio was 22-860,048 barrels in 1915, a decrease of 1,241,000 barrels, or 5 per cent,
from the output of this field in 1914, according to J. D. Northrop, of the United States Geological Survey.

The average price of this oil at the wells was $1.55 a barrel, and the total market value was $35,468,973, a decrease of 33 cents in average unit price and of $9,770,228, or 22 per cent in total value from 1914.

During the year 5,197 wells were completed, of which 2,905, or 56 per cent, yielded oil, 1,254 were classified as gas wells, and 1,038 were barren. The combined output for the first day of productive life of the oil wells completed in 1915 was 31-922 barrels, or an average of 11 barrels for each well. New wells in Pennsylvania and New York averaged 7 barrels each, in eastern and central Ohio 12 barrels, in Kentucky 13 barrels, and in West Virginia 18 barrels.

The production of the several divisions of the Appalachian field in 1915 was as follows: West Virginia,
9,254,798 barrels; Pennsylvania, 7-838,705 barrels; southern Ohio 4-431,493 barrels; New York 887,778 barrels; and Kentucky 437,274 barrels.

TO LECTURE HERE.

Pastor Sturgeon to Discuss the World War on Sunday.

Pastor Menta Sturgeon, of New York city, has accepted an invitation to deliver a lecture Sunday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock at the American Mechanic's Hall, his subject being
"The World on Fire."

Arrangements for this lecture have been made by some of our local citizens who communicated with Pastor Sturgeon and found that he could be here Sunday forenoon next. We congratulate these, and are pleased to welcome the pastor to our city. All Europe is ablaze with the most fearful and destructive war known in history. In a recent address, President Wilson said: "The whole world is on fire, and our nation is threatened." Everybody is asking what is the reason for a war in this age of great enlightenment, and why have such efforts been put forward for military preparation? Is it necessary for America to become a military power? What will be the result of this great conflict? These are serious questions which deserve careful consideration of every thoughtful person, without regard to politics, creed or religious belief. They will be ably discussed and clearly answered by Pastor Sturgeon in his lecture next Sunday.

It is stated that the Scriptures long ago foretold this war, pointed out when it would begin, what would be the results, and what will follow thereafter. These questions necessarily involve the peace and happiness of every person, and it is both timely and important that we consider them. We are glad Pastor Sturgeon has chosen this subject for his lecture here. Admission to the lecture will be free. All will be welcome.

If you invite people's opinion you've no right to sneer at them because they don't say what you wanted.—David Graham Phillips.

All net lingerie frocks are particularly attractive, especially when the trimming is simple. Unusually summery and youthful is the frock shown here, with its bands of hemstitched net. These frocks are suitable for garden wear, particularly if worn with dainty summer shoes and garden hat.

KINGSTON YOUTH WITH ARMY SOUTH OF TEXAS BORDER

Lieutenant Raymond Marsh Writes
Interestingly of Country and Its People—Fast Time Made by Artillery Over Dusty Roads—What Company M May Witness.

Something of soldiering in Mexico, likely to be a live subject for the boys of Company M in the near future, is contained in a letter from Lieutenant Raymond Marsh, Battery B, Sixth Field Artillery, U. S. A., who in a letter to a former teacher in Ulster Academy, of which he is an alumnus, gives a most interesting picture of army progress amid unfamiliar scenes. The letter is furnished The Freeman by the courtesy of the recipient, and bore the date of May 28th last. The letter in part is as follows:

"I am writing at a point nearly 250 miles south of the border where ink is scarce and postage stamps not to be had at all, and letters are well come. I have been in Mexico ever this affair started, for my battery crossed the border at Culberson's ranch with the advance guard column at 1:14 a. m. on the sixteenth of March. We have not seen any actual fighting yet but we certainly have done some real soldiering. In the first two days' expedition we made a world's record for field artillery marching, for in that time we covered one hundred and twenty-eight miles. This may sound easy to you who are used to the forty miles an hour rate of auto and express, but to us it meant fourteen to sixteen hours a day of hard, steady riding. We feel proud of the record, for we lost only two horses out of our one hundred and eighty doing it, and we didn't develop a single sore back, neck or shoulder. "Our battery has been as far south as San Antonio, which is only twelve miles east of Santa Ysabel, where Villa perpetrated one of his outrages last winter. Just now we are encamped a few miles north of the village of Las Cruces on the Rio de Santa Maria.

Valley is Villa Stronghold.

"This Santa Maria valley is Villa's stronghold. He spent his boyhood in this valley. He owns a house or two in every village and his first wife came from El Valle, only thirty miles north of us. His bandits are pretty well driven out of here now, but every once in a while a band of them appears. Only last week a band of them jumped a patrol from this camp. A couple of troops of cavalry at once went in pursuit and the Villistas scattered leaving three dead behind. Corvantes, the leader, being among the dead. The skirmish, however, cost us one corporal killed and one private wounded.

Dust Deep on Roads.

"We are at an elevation of about 7,000 feet and although the noon sun is fairly scorching, the air is so dry and rare that the heat is not felt much. One hardly ever perspires here. Until now the nights have been cold, very cold, but now they are only refreshingly cool. There is almost always a breeze stirring and that keeps us cool.

"It also stirs up the dust which I assure you is a great annoyance. So many troops have moved over these roads and camped in these same camps that everything is covered with inches of fine white alkali dust which the faintest breeze blows about in dense penetrating blinding clouds.

Generally Fine Country.

Generally speaking, however, this is a fine country. As a cow country, it far exceeds anything I ever saw in our own southwest. Under industrious irrigation it truly blossoms as the rose. The vast mineral wealth of the mountains is as yet untouched and higher up in the mountains are vast forests of huge pines. But under this present reign of brigandage farming has ceased, mines are closed, saw mills are silent and cattle are running wild.

Appearance of Villages.

"The villages are universally formed of 'dobe' houses, very few of which have any windows. Usually each house is in one corner of a 'dobe' walled enclosure which is irrigated and in which one may see a few straggling fruit trees and an ill kept garden. Usually, too, each town has its plaza with some sort of church facing it. All towns are interesting, some are pretty, but the dirt!

Description of Natives.

"The natives are the dirtiest, laziest, most worthless lot of humanity I have ever seen. They exist in the most abject poverty and the utmost squalor.

"The expedition has been most interesting in many ways. Beside learning something about field service under real war conditions, the trip through this section of northern Mexico has been more than interesting.

Outlook Not Cheerful.

"We have been supplied with rations, etc., by motor truck trains and they have rendered fine service. Our rations have been of the plainest sort but we have always had plenty. Our horses have not fared as well, for not once since we crossed the border have they had a full feed and sometimes they have had nothing more substantial to sustain them than our prayers.

"The outcome of this expedition is, indeed, doubtful. Carranza is massing troops along our line of communication and frankly the outlook is not cheerful."

She Got It.

Jack—As our engagement is to be a secret, I won't give you an engagement ring at present. Jill—Oh, I could wear it on my right hand!

We are manufacturers and cannot afford to carry over from one season to another any of our products. And for that reason we have begun a clean-up sale which will overshadow in point of value-giving any sale that has been held in Kingston this season. Even those ambitious strike agitators who have been attempting to injure our business have not compelled us to curtail our output, and as a result we're overstocked too heavily for this time of the year.

SALE BEGINS SATURDAY MORNING, RAIN OR SHINE!

A TALE OF TURKEY.

Queer Things That Happened in the Name of the Constitution.

The ignorance of the Turkish masses concerning political questions, says Sir Edwin Pears in "Forty Years in Constantinople," is shown by certain incidents of the revolution of 1908. The hamals, or porters, in the towns, like the peasants in the country, when they heard that his majesty had sworn to be faithful to the constitution, inquired what it was. Was it a person? Was it a new caliph? And very few could give any clear explanation. The words "liberty" and "equality" meant something good, although they could not have said what. To some they signified general license.

Two English friends of mine were motoring outside Smyrna when a number of Turkish boys set upon them and flung stones at them. The Englishmen gave chase and caught the principal offenders. The eldest was asked why he had thrown stones.

"Hurriet var," was the reply. "There's liberty. We can do what we like now."

The Englishman replied, "Hurriet var, and I am at liberty to give you a good thrashing, am I not?"

One of the boys said yes, he supposed that would be so, but he hoped the liberty would not be used. The Englishman replied that it would not be used that time, but if the offense were repeated he would use it to the fullest extent.

The workmen on a newspaper during that time asked for a large increase of wages.

"But why?" asked the owner. "Because there is a constitution."

The tramway men struck for higher wages, and the only justification that they put forward was that there was now a constitution. Yet men of all classes cheered in the loudest manner for the constitution. Throughout the month of August smuggled tobacco was openly sold in the streets at a very cheap rate, buyers and sellers alike considering that the constitution allowed men to set aside the law that had made the sale of tobacco a government monopoly.

War on High Prices at Shader's Saturday Sale!

The many housekeepers and others who patronize this market have cause to feel alarm over the oppressive wholesale prices of all kinds of foodstuffs, and we retailers are powerless to afford adequate relief. We, like other market people, do the best we can under the circumstances, lowering prices Saturdays until the "dead line" is reached. Still, the higher the wholesale quotations, the higher the qualities we maintain, giving patrons the most and the best their money will buy anywhere. That's some consolation.

FIRST TWO RACES FALL TO HARVARD

Crimson Oarsmen Easily Defeat Yale in Freshman and Junior Eight-oared Events at New London.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New London, Ct., June 23.—Crimson oarsmen swept the course on the Thames river today in the first two races of the annual Yale-Harvard regatta. Harvard took both the freshmen eight and Varsity junior eight races handily.

About 25,000 persons watched the aquatic struggles, which took place over a two-mile course. A stiff wind blew making the water choppy and necessitating a change in the course for the second race.

The first race, that of the freshmen, went to Harvard by two lengths. The Crimson took the junior eight contest by one length.

The main event, the Varsity eight, will be rowed later this afternoon. The two Harvard victories vindicated the Crimson's adoption of the combined American-English stroke. Yale used the pure English stroke, which has been much criticized by American experts.

The freshmen race started at 9:44 with Yale in the lead about 3/4 of a length. This was soon increased to one full length.

At the half mile mark the Yale boys, keeping up a steady stroke, increased their lead a little more. Both crews were racing strongly and neither was splashing. At the three-quarter mile Yale had a lead of two lengths. Harvard appeared to be holding its strength in reserve.

As they approached the first mile, both crews were pulling an even stroke.

Passing the half mile mark Yale was still leading, but Harvard had hit up the pace and was only a length behind. Both were going strong. With the race half over the Yale oarsmen also increased their stroke and increased their lead to a length and a half. Harvard's stroke was also quickened.

Show Speed in Spurt.

Both crews increased their stroke to 36 and then to 38 as they went into the stretch.

The Harvard crew was making a desperate effort to overhaul the blue shell, but the Yale men held out gamely. Nearing the finish, however, the Harvard boys used every ounce of reserve strength and passed the Yale boat as if it had been standing still.

In one of the most wonderful spurts ever witnessed in a boat race the Crimson crew snatched victory in the last 300 yards and crossed the finish line two lengths ahead of the Yale oarsmen.

The official time of the freshmen eight oared race was:

Junior Event is Delayed.

The Varsity junior eights were called out as soon as the freshmen race was over, but there was considerable delay in starting the second race owing to the failure of the referee's boat to appear.

The Yale crew had the west side of the river in the junior eight race. By ten-thirty the water had become very rough, and it was decided to start the race four miles up the river and have the finish two miles from the point where the freshmen race ended.

The two crews reached the new starting point at 10:40 but were not given the starting signal until 10:58. Yale got away in the lead by half a length, pulling a heavy stroke. It still held the lead after the crews had gone a quarter of a mile.

Nearing the half mile Harvard hit up its stroke, advancing to catch the Yale shell, but as the crews neared the end of the first mile the blue was still in the lead. The water was choppy, but neither crew splashed to any extent.

Harvard a Length to Good.

Yale also held up its stroke and still held the lead as they neared the end of the first mile. Harvard was pulling hard.

Passing the first mile mark Harvard jumped into the lead and pulled ahead until it was a length in front. Once more Yale quickened its stroke. Harvard was pulling evenly.

After the two shells had gone a mile and a quarter, Yale began to creep up with its rapid stroke. The crimson crew rowed evenly, apparently reserving its strength for the finish spurt.

The crews were even at the mile and a half mark, but then Harvard put all its strength behind its strokes and took the lead. It maintained this during the last half mile add crossed the finish line a length to the good.

The official time for the junior Varsity was: Harvard 10:25; Yale 10:27.

PROMINENT PORT EWEN WOMAN

Mrs. Marian C. Cormack Died Thursday After a Brief Illness.

Mrs. Marian Crawford Cormack, wife of the late Henry M. Cormack, died Thursday at her home in Port Ewen. She was 65 years old and her illness was of brief duration. Mrs. Cormack had always enjoyed a robust constitution and her unexpected death was a severe shock to her family and friends. Endowed with a sweet and gentle disposition, she was esteemed by all and loved by those who knew her. She possessed a charming conversational ability that her friends appreciated and enjoyed.

Naturally of a benevolent and unselfish character, Mrs. Cormack was a constant source of inspiration and hope to those who had found life's burden not easy to carry. Her good counsel were always open to those who needed such assistance, condition or creed proving no barrier. While devoted to her home and family, she still found time with her broad and charitable character, to quietly interest herself in any movement where good was to be accomplished. She lived a life that exemplified the highest type of noble womanhood. As president of the Port Ewen Suffrage Society, Mrs. Cormack conducted an energetic and successful campaign for the cause at the 1915 election.

Mr. and Mrs. Cormack were of Scotch parentage although both were born and reared on the Rock of Gibraltar, the great English fortress guarding the entrance to the Mediterranean Sea. As direct descendants, Mrs. Cormack is survived by one daughter, Miss Grace, and three sons, Frederick, Maurice and Donald, and two little grandsons, whose grief and loss is shared by a large circle of friends in Port Ewen and elsewhere.

HOW FLAT FOOT MAY BE CURED

"Flat foot," or fallen arches, is
not peculiar to Kingston men. All
cities suffer from the complaint,
which is attracting particular attention at the present time because of
the number of applicants for military service who are being rejected
on account of it. Fallen arches
when they reach an advanced stage
are extremely painful and prevent
a person from walking more than a block or two without feeling the
effect, which shows itself in forced
limping, and if walking is continued without pausing for rest, the
sufferer often becomes temporarily
incapacitated.

Arch supports and built-up shoes
afford relief, and sometimes entirely
restore the arches of the feet to their
natural conditions, but the best
remedy is to strengthen the muscles
of the arch, which may be done by
proper exercise which, if faithfully
followed, results in complete
restoration of the arches. The exercise prescribed by a noted New York
physician a number of years ago
was adopted about a year ago by
medical examiners of the New York
city police department, where fallen
arches were found to be a general
complaint among the patrolmen on account of the long time they are
on their feet during the day.

The instructions for the cure are
simple. The person suffering from
them should stand with toes pointed
inward, and heels spread apart, and
rise slowly on the toes to the full
height, then lowering himself until
his heels touch the floor, and repeat-
ing the exercise. The exercise
should be taken night and morning,
in bare feet or stocking feet. Rising
on the toes and then slowly lower-
ing the body should be practiced
about twenty times each morning
and night for a few days, and then
the number of times the exercises
is repeated may be increased. Good
results often are obtained within a week, and in a month the muscles
will be found to have become
strengthened to a degree which will enable a long walk to be taken with-
out pain.

are going to hold this sale right in the height of the season, instead of waiting until after the season is over, so as to give our customers and friends an opportunity to get their suits early and get the good of them. You can buy high class clothes at this sale for less than they can be bought at wholesale today, as they are much higher than when we bought these clothes. Every suit in

BOBWHITE
(Colinus virginianus)

Length, ten inches. Known everywhere by the clear whistle that suggests its name.

Range: Resident in the United States east of the plains; introduced
in many places in the West.

bobwhite is loved by every dweller in
the country and is better known to
more hunters in the United States
than any other game bird. It is no
less appreciated on the table than in
the field, and in many states has un-
questionably been hunted too closely.

Fortunately it seems to be practicable
to propagate the bird in captivity,
and much is to be hoped for in this direction. Half the food of this quail
consists of weed seeds, almost a fourth
of grain, and about a tenth of wild
fruits. Although thus eating grain,
the bird gets most of it from stub-
ble. Fifteen per cent of the bobwhite's
food is composed of insects, including several of the most serious pests
of agriculture. It feeds freely upon
Colorado potato beetles and chinch
bugs; it devours also cucumber bee-
tles, wireworms, billbugs, clover-leaf
weevils, cotton-boll weevils, army
worms, cutworms, and Rocky mountain locusts. Take it all
in all, bobwhite is very useful to the
farmer, and while it may not be necessary to remove it from the list of
game birds every farmer should see
that his own farm is not depleted by
eager sportsmen.

ALPHONSO ASKED TO PREVENT WAR

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, June 23.—A determined effort is being made today by certain Latin-American diplomats in Washington, assisted by the Spanish ambassador, Senor Don Juan Riano Y Gayanagos, to prevent war between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico.

This was admitted today both at the Spanish embassy and by Don Rafael Zaldivar, the Salvadorean minister to this country. So far, all of the efforts to bring about an adjustment are centered in Mexico City where pressure is being brought to bear upon the Carranza government. The United States has not yet been approached on the subject and according to Dr. Zaldivar, cannot be until Carranza acts, as the note of Secretary Lansing delivered last Tuesday places the next initiative in the hands of the Mexican government.

That important developments are expected, however, was shown by the announcement of Ambassador Riano that he had cancelled his plans to proceed tomorrow to Newport to open the summer embassy there and will remain in Washington for the present. At the same time it was stated at the Spanish embassy that yesterday Spanish citizens of Mexico City asked King Alfonso of Spain asking him to use his good offices to prevent war between the United States and Mexico. So far as now known here, no further action has been taken on this proposition.

Most of the Latin-American diplomats are out of the city but it was rumored here today that Dr. Domicia da Gama, the Brazilian ambassador who is now in Long Branch, and Dr. Nnon, Argentine ambassador, also absent, may return to this city to initiate any movement looking toward mediation that may become possible after the Carranza reply to the latest American note is received.

So far no proposal of mediation has been brought officially to the attention of the United States government. Both at the White House and at the state department officials declined to discuss what action would be taken on such a proposition if made. In this connection it was said that they greatly doubted whether the question at issue are of a character that could be mediated.

Not For Mediation.

"The matters in dispute between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico are the murder of American citizens and outrages against American interest," said one of the president's chief advisers. "These are not questions that, in my opinion, would lend themselves to mediation. It is my belief that complete acceptance by General Carranza of the principles enunciated in the president's note is the only way whereby the present crisis can be solved without recourse to arms."

When Secretary Lansing's attention was directed to the mediation reports he said:

Administration is Pat.

"I know nothing about these suggestions and cannot discuss them."

Dr. Zaldivar, the Salvadorean minister said:

"I have discussed the crisis in the Mexican affair of the United States with such of my colleagues as now are in the city and have been in touch with others who are away. We stand ready to do anything that is in our power to prevent war. Of course, we cannot act until we know what decision the Carranza government will reach toward the position of the United States as explained in the note sent forward last Tuesday. But we will do everything that lies in our power to avert an armed clash between the two nations."

Meanwhile the administration's attitude remained unchanged. President Wilson still is awaiting a complete report of the battle of Carrizal from General Pershing. A message received by Secretary of War Baker just before he entered the cabinet meeting today from General Pershing said that a complete report of the fight was on its way to him (Pershing) by special courier and that as soon as it is received it will be forwarded to Washington. Baker received from Pershing today the stories told by stragglers who had reached his command and which had been already carried in the news dispatches from the border. The war secretary declined to make this report public on the ground that it was inconclusive. It was learned, however, that the report emphasized the treachery of the Mexicans and absolved entirely the Americans from blame for the encounter.

HOME GUARD UNIT READY TO DEFEND

Kingston and Empire State Will be Safe in the Hands of Captain Fowler's Command Numbering 100 Business and Professional Men.

With ninety-one members signed and a dozen waiting an opportunity to enroll, the Depot Company which is to serve within the state in the absence of Company M was organized amid much enthusiasm Thursday night at the armory. Any misunderstanding as to the service requirements of Class B was cleared away by explanations from Captain Everett Fowler and Major George Chandler, both of whom explained the duties of the reserve company and what would be expected of its members. In the local company leading business and professional men are enrolled.

Class A recruits will be composed of men who are willing to serve in the field and fill in any vacancies in the ranks of Company M.

Class B recruits, of which the greater part of the Depot Company will be made up, are men who do not desire active service in the field but who are willing to serve as a state force in a home station.

Major Chandler discussed the erroneous reports that have been circulated in regard to the objects of Class B and made it plain that such recruits were solely for duty within the borders of New York state. The organization of the reserve company was necessary, he said, before Company M could leave the armory. The speaker digressed to give his hearers some idea of men engaged in battles.

Officers are Named.

Captain Fowler read the heading on the paper that members had signed and pointed out the utter impossibility of members ever being called out for other than riot duty or in the protection of property within the state. Former members of the guard, ineligible for service, he said, are especially urged to join the depot company.

Organization of the company followed, with Captain Fowler being chosen captain. Joseph M. Fowler was chosen first lieutenant and John C. Mullen, first sergeant. Appointment of the other non-commissioned officers was left to the captain.

Utmost enthusiasm prevailed at the gathering at which seventy men were present. Wesley H. Rider, one of the volunteers, had a number of questions to ask as to the likelihood of tropical service and these were answered to his satisfaction. A number of men signed the articles and then adjournment was taken subject to the call of Captain Fowler. The latter stated that upon the departure of Company M, the reserve company would be expected to turn out at the armory and be in readiness to take charge, arms and uniforms to be issued later.

O'Ryan on Reserve Forces.

Speaking of the part of these reserve forces, Major General John F. O'Ryan said on Wednesday that among other details incident to mobilization "property to be left at home stations must be inventoried, much of it for storage and all of it inventoried for transfer to the commanding officer of the depot unit, who will be the custodian of the armory during the absence of the parent organization."

"The depot unit is an organization brought into being at the time of mobilization to perform state functions during the absence of the parent organization in the federal service."

"It is desired that discharged National Guard soldiers who are not available for active service promptly apply to the depot units of their old organizations for service in such organizations. The depot units have their units. The depot units, for they are to important receiving and giving assistance in such organizations, for they are to bring the parent organizations to war strength."

U. S. Mexican Troubles Charged to Berlin by London Press.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, June 23.—Editorial comment by the British newspapers on the Mexican situation today is almost unanimous in holding German influence responsible for the present difficulties between Mexico and the United States.

"A certain German influence is involved, even the counsels of Carranza himself are not free from the ubiquitous Teuton," says the Pall Mall Gazette. "No doubt President Wilson has a hard row to hoe. The situation demands vigorous action. The slightest false step is likely to have momentous consequences."

"A policy with more consistency would prove a better assurance than the present attitude of drift."

SOLONS FOR ONCE PREPARED FOR IT

Militia Measures Passed by Last Legislature Are Now Serving Useful Purpose—What Changes Are Made Possible Under New Laws.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, June 23.—As though scenting war complications, the legislature of 1916 passed over a score of bills amending the military law of the state, the end aimed at having been to reorganize the National Guard system so as to make the fighting machinery under the command of the governor more perfect and efficient. While these bills were exploited at the time of their discussion and passage, they are particularly interesting at this time also.

Senator John D. Stivers and Assemblyman J. Leslie Kincaid, chairman of the senate and assembly committees on military affairs, respectively, introduced and fathered the amendments, all of which were approved by General John F. O'Ryan, the commanding officer of the militiamen of the state of New York in the field.

The most important amendments follow:

Increasing the allowance for headquarters of a battalion or signal corps.

Providing for the establishment of a civil reserve list of persons qualified to serve in the militia.

Providing for the organization of National Guard units, depots to take the place of the regiments called to service by the federal government.

Providing for compulsory service in the militia in the state.

Providing for the reorganization of the naval militia so as to constitute a brigade of twenty-four divisions, or two battalions.

Providing that the governor shall be the only official authorized to order out the militia in time of riot. Heretofore the sheriff was vested with this authority.

Providing for the increasing of the strength of the National Guard in all of its branches.

Providing that the governor may in his discretion detail officers of the national guard from the retired list to active duty and to return them to such retired list. Officers retired because of age are not to be detailed to command troops; they are to be detailed for staff duty.

Providing for pensions for commissioned officers of the National Guard or the naval militia after twenty-five years. Certain provisions are to equal seventy-five per cent of the amount of pay at the time of retirement.

Reorganizing the hospital corps generally. This law increases the efficiency of this branch of the service and provides for additional officers and men.

Providing that the governor may from time to time organize at places other than the station of the command, training detachment of officers and men who shall form a part of such command.

Reorganizing the signal corps and providing for aeroplanes and other modern munitions.

Other laws were also enacted, but they were more of a corrective nature than the above. Many are technical and not so worded as to be understood by civilians.

Lay's Saturday Sale

There seems to be no question in the minds of retailers that the increased cost of all kinds of meats is due solely to the business methods of the large packers. A shortage of cattle may be accountable in a way, but it is a fact that wholesalers find no difficulty in supplying Europe with millions of pounds of meats at practically any price they care to charge. Consumers can do nothing but adopt a policy of "watchful waiting" and look to Washington for relief. Therefore, we, in common with all local butchers, must suffer a curtailment of profits if people in moderate circumstances are to be permitted to eat meat. We've cut profits to the quick for Saturday, as our week-end sale prices will show.

Highland, June 22.—Funeral services for the late Mrs. Mary Adams were held from the First M. E. Church last Friday and were largely attended by relatives and friends. She had been a resident of this place for years and was highly esteemed and respected by all who knew her. She always was greatly interested in everything pertaining to her church, and was a regular prayer meeting attendant, and was very often at regular Sunday services. Her pastor, the Rev. J. C. Coddington, gave a fine sermon to the living and spoke beautifully in regard to the deceased. The Rev. G. H. Scofield offered prayer and Miss Josephine Wing sang two selections very appropriate, and the rendition was fine, with Miss Kelsey Staples at the pipe organ. There were many beautiful floral tokens, showing the esteem in which she was held. She was a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary Club and attended the meetings quite regularly. She leaves to mourn her loss sisters and a brother, also one son and two daughters. These people have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends in their hour of deep bereavement. Interment was in Highland cemetery, under direction of W. E. Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kurtz were in Poughkeepsie on Wednesday. Miss J. Wing is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wray on Vineyard avenue.

Mrs. Fred Miller of New York city has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Almira Freer, of this place for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Plass, with several friends, motored to Ashokan dam last Sunday, and had a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Jordan have had as their guest last week a lady friend from Lake Mohonk.

Miss Mabel Townsend has returned to her home here for a vacation. She taught school in Ossining.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Mott had a guest from Brooklyn last week.

The Hovet ar Leo families will arrive at their summer homes on Maple avenue this week to remain until fall.

Eastern Star held their last regular meeting Monday evening. They expect to resume work at last meeting in September. A few from here will attend grand chapter sessions in October, when all look forward to a great deal of pleasure combined with business.

Tuesday afternoon the funeral services of Mrs. Gertrude Simpson were held from the late home and friends assembled to pay their last respects to one who had resided here for years. SUPT. ANDREWS IS AGAIN IN CHARGE

The school directors of the fourth supervisory district of Ulster county, comprising the towns of Hardenbergh, Olive, Shandaken and Woodstock, met at Odd Fellows Hall, Phoenixia, for the purpose of electing a district superintendent.
Sanford Schoonmaker of Woodstock was chairman and Edwin C. Chase of Olivea clerk.

Wallace J. Andrews was nominated and unanimously elected superintendent for the ensuing term of five years. Mr. Andrews has already served one term as he was elected in 1911 when the state was first reorganized into supervisory districts. His re-election stamps his work with the approval of the people of his district.

During the five years he has served as superintendent, Mr. Andrews has proved himself to be an able administrator and an efficient educator. The education department when they organized the superintendent system did it with the idea of bringing the school and the community into closer touch with each other, and to get the schools
out of politics as much as possible.

Mr. Andrews has helped to carry out their idea by his cordial support and has emphasized this at the teachers' conference. He has shown by his work that he is a schoolman and not a politician.

Several new schoolhouses have been built in his district since his first election and a general spirit of progress is evident.

Superintendent Andrews has always taken a great interest in the teachers of his district and any teacher who is worthy of it can rest assured of his unqualified support.

He has endeavored to inculcate a professional spirit among his teachers by securing the best talent in the state for instructors at his teachers' meetings.

The pupils of the schools with whom Mr. Andrews is very popular, with his pleasure to know that they will have the pleasure of his visits again.

The board of directors extend their congratulations and best wishes for a prosperous term.

MENKE'S DAILY
SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke).

New York, June 23.—Racing officials undoubtedly would help the game if they increased the jockey weight standards. Many of the best horse pilots in the country have been forced into semi-idleness because 110 has been fixed as the poundage maximum for riders.

The older a jockey grows the brainier he becomes; the more he learns about racing. That makes him all the more valuable. But, on the other hand, added years increase his weight, no matter how he tries to fight it off, and many of the best men that ever straddled a pony have been forced out of the game because they cannot make 110.

Tommy McTaggart is one of the very greatest jockeys that this country ever produced. He is brainy to an extreme, he knows horses—and he knows how to handle them. But he gets very few mounts this year because he has grown too bulky to sit astride the lightweight horses.

Many Jockeys Idle.

The same thing is true concerning Eddie Dugan, who, failing to get steady work because of increased weight, has gone to Russia. Loftus is another star rider who is getting heavy. J. McCarthy, Mike Miles, Joe Notter and Willie Shaw are in the same predicament.

Those jockeys, even to retain their jobs as utility men for horses that carry top weights, must go through strenuous exercise each day to keep as close to 110 as possible.
They have to do six or eight miles
of road work, take hot baths, diet, wear sweating clothes and do other health wrecking stunts to keep in "working" condition.

"If the standard was boosted to 120 pounds, it would benefit racing all over the country," an official told us recently. "It would bring back into the saddles regularly some of the best men that ever rode a horse and would mean that each horse, being straddled by an expert, would run his real race; every horse would have the benefit of splendid driving.
As it is now, the lightweight are,
for the most part, inexperienced youngsters. They are put on a horse and oftentimes kill its chance of victory, because of immature riding judgment." That's why there are so many form reversals on the turf today.

"If the maximum was boosted to 120 it would increase the burden for some horses, but that would be counter-balanced by the fact that the horses would have the benefit of skilled handling. And races then would not furnish so many upsets as they do now.

Sam McMeekin Comes Back.

Wonder if old Sam McMeekin
read what we wrote about him recently?

Sam, you'll recollect, is a race horse who was sold for $15,000 by John Madden to August Belmont
last summer. At the time he was a sensation. Immediately after donning the Belmont silks, he began to act like a spavined hack animal.
Not one race did he win as a 1915
Belmont entry. Belmont first entered him in stake events. Sam was outclassed. Later he entered him in first class selling plate races.
In these Samuel also was beaten.

When the present season began, Belmont jammed him into a low priced
"plate" event and then we wrote a story telling about Sammy's disgrace.

Right from that moment Sammy performed a "come-back." Probably he got a bit peeved because we had "panned" him and he wanted to show that we had abused him unjustly. At any rate, Sam's record for this 1916 season, follows:

In eight starts he has been victorious on five occasions. He has been second twice and third once, so,
you see, he has finished in the money
in each and every occasion.

Oh, no, Sammy hasn't beaten any real horses. He has been frisking around in the $400, $600 and $800
fields, but that doesn't alter the fact that he has won. That's the main thing in a race, no matter what sort of a race it is.

When the season began, Belmont probably would have traded Sammy for a peck of oats, but you'd have to have the bid a little higher now.
He's come to think pretty well of that loss by this time.

Hot Liners.

(By Frank G. Menke).

The Tigers' defeat at the hands of the Indians just when a victory
would have given them the lead, sent them to third place. The Nationals jumped into second place by splitting a double header with the Athletics.

The bugaboo is still at the Polo Grounds. The Giants lost another extra inning contest. The Braves won out in the 11th.

With the lead almost in their hands the Phillies "broke" before the Dodgers' attack and went down to defeat in both games of the double header.

The Browns were neatly white-washed by the White Sox.

WAR GRAFT CASES EXCITE RUSSIANS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Petrograd, June 23.—The report of the commission which investigated the charges against the former war minister General Soukhomlinoff is creating tremendous excitement. A number of peasants delegates from the provinces have arrived here to demand the execution of the ex-minister and his wife. This demand is supported by the labor unions and almost all political organizations.

The commission appointed for the investigation by the Imperial Council consisted of the Senators Sogorovskii and Kurkina and Col. Nosovitch, the prosecuting officer of the military court of Moscow, and has been at work four months.

The commission states that General Soukhomlinoff received enormous bribes from army contractors. He had organized a regular and extensive system of graft. His principal aides were Ivan Hoshkewitch, an engineer and relative of his wife, a married couple by the name of Aktschier, a certain Maxim Weber, a Mrs. Anna Aurich and the notorious Rzewski whose intimate relations with the former minister of the interior Chwostow caused the downfall of the latter. Rzewski has made a partial confession.

The statements made by Rzewski have also connected Gen. Soukhomlinoff with the activities of Lieutenant Colonel Mjasjedow, who was executed some time ago for treason. The commission charges the ex-minister with high treason and states that he drove the country unprepared into war, so as to be able to graft on a larger scale than before.

This charge is based on the fact that the general, in the presence of Lieutenant Colonel Mjasjedow, dictated an article to Rzewski which was published by the "Birzhevijsk Wiedomosti" under the title: "We Are Ready" about two weeks before the outbreak of the war. The article was at once telegraphed to France and England and helped to stir up war sentiment in these countries. In Russia it caused a wave of war spirit.

The court clique dominated by the monk Rasputin is doing its utmost to save the indicted general, but he will probably have to pay penalty for his crimes, because the power and influence of his friends has diminished greatly since the details of the incredible scandal became known.

Gen. Soukhomlinoff was honest it is believed, until he became commander of the garrison of Kieff. Here he made the acquaintance of a number of doubtful characters who gained great influence over him. These criminals and conspirators introduced him to the beautiful woman who is now his wife and who has caused his downfall.

After his marriage his wife obtained large army contracts for her friends and shared the profits with them. When he was appointed war minister the clique followed him to Petrograd and reaped a golden harvest. Through extravagant living he got deeply into debt and finally started to graft himself.

Col. Hasanojedol, who has been executed for treason, was known as the most intimate friend of Mrs. Soukhomlinoff and one newspaper openly states that closer relations than mere friendship existed between the two.

When the colonel was arrested police found letters in his possession which left no doubt that the wife of the war minister was also guilty of treason. At that time all Russia demanded the execution of the woman, but Rasputin and the former prime minister were only banished to South Russia. Within three months she returned to Petrograd to resume her interrupted grafting operations with the aid of her husband.

UNIVERSAL WINS A ROAD ROLLER CASE

Oltarsch Construction Company Cannot Regain Possession of Machinery Now in Custody of Rockland County Sheriff, Rules Court.

Judge Hasbrouck has handed down a decision in the case of the Universal Road Machinery Company against the Brady Oltarsch Construction Company, which was argued before him last Saturday on a motion by the plaintiff to vacate proceedings taken by the construction company to replevin in a replevin action. Judge Hasbrouck grants the motion of the Universal, his opinion being as follows:

The plaintiff made a conditional sale or lease in writing of a crushing machine to the defendant August 28, 1915. Among the conditions was the following:

"6. No note, draft, check or similar instrument, given or accepted on account of any payment or sum due hereunder, shall except at the option of the lessor, be deemed to be a payment nor in any way diminish or alter the rights of the lessor hereunder, unless paid when due.

"7. In case the lessee fails, etc. * * * then * * * amounts * * * shall immediately become due * * * amounts already paid * * * considered as rent and the lessor * * * may * * * and resell the same * * * proceeds * * * to be applied upon the amount still due under the contract."

The defendant made default in the payment of certain notes given the plaintiff under the agreement aforesaid, and the plaintiff on about the second day of May, 1916, sued the defendant thereon. Subsequently and on or about June 3, plaintiff having demanded said chattels of the defendant, and the return thereof having been refused, plaintiff brought suit in replevin and by the sheriff of Rockland county replevied the same. On the fifth day of June the defendant served upon the said sheriff a demand for the return of the said property, an affidavit and an undertaking giving notice of the justification of the sheriff. Then the plaintiff made the motion on hearing by an order to show cause containing a stay of the justification.

The contention of the plaintiff is that the defendant's affidavit of ownership or possession is insufficient. The affidavit states the right to possession by virtue of the contract and the breach of the guarantee therein contained, the damages resulting from such breach and the payment of the sum of $1,270 upon the purchase price. The defendant claims that such payment and the damages amount to more than the purchase price of the chattels. When one considers that the defendant by his agreement has stipulated away in express terms any right of possession it may have had except such as might arise out of full payment of the purchase price in money, it is clear the terms of subdivision 2 of section 1704 of the code have not been complied with.

The contention that a claim for a breach of guarantee amounts to the payment called for by the contract, is not satisfactory. The general statement of ownership added to the special statement contained in the defendant's affidavit verified June 3, does not change the situation, for the affidavit possesses a fatal inconsistency.

Under the contract above quoted the plaintiff did not deprive himself of the right to institute a possessory action because of theretofore having brought an action upon notes given in payment.

Ratchford v. Caruga Co., 159 App. Div., 528.
The contract upon which the decision turned does not contain the provisions which have influenced the determination in the case at bar.

Motion granted with $10 costs.
Alfred D. Van Buren appeared for the Universal Road Machinery Company and the motion; Alvin T. Sapinsky of New York City appeared for the construction company and opposed.

PETROLEUM PRODUCT IN EAST.

U. S. Figures Show Nearly Fifty Per Cent of Wells Barren.

The output of petroleum in the Appalachian field, which includes the areas of oil production in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and southeastern Ohio was 24,860,048 barrels in 1915, a decrease of 1,241,000 barrels, or 5 per cent, from the output of this field in 1914, according to J. D. Northrop, of the United States Geological Survey.

The average price of this oil at the wells was $1.55 a barrel, and the total market value was $35,468,973, a decrease of 33 cents in average unit price and of $3,770,228, or 22 per cent in total value from 1914.

During the year 3,197 wells were completed, of which 2,905, or 56 per cent, yielded oil. 1,254 were classified as gasers, and 1,048 were barren. The combined output for the first day of productive life of the oil wells completed in 1915 was 31,922 barrels, or an average of 11 barrels for each well. New wells in Pennsylvania and New York averaged 7 barrels each, in eastern and central Ohio 12 barrels, in Kentucky 13 barrels, and in West Virginia 18 barrels.

The production of the several divisions of the Appalachian field in 1915 was as follows: West Virginia, 9,264,798 barrels; Pennsylvania, 9,538,705 barrels; southern Ohio 4,431,493 barrels; New York 837,773 barrels; and Kentucky 437,274 barrels.

CHICHESTER.

Chichester, June 23.—Karl Schwarzwelder of New York City, a member of the national guard, obtained one day's leave of absence to visit his parents in this place this week.

The factory was closed here Saturday because of a broken lubricator on the engine.

Miss Alta DuBois has been spending a few days in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. James Townsend of Fleischmanns were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Schwarzwelder of this place.

Mrs. Harvey Ostrander, Jr., who has been seriously ill is now improving. Dr. Gross has been attending her.

R. B. Bennett made a trip to Kingston last Wednesday.

The school directors meeting of this district was held at Phoenixia on Tuesday. Wallace J. Andrews was re-elected district superintendent of schools. There were seven directors present and the seven votes were an cast for Mr. Andrews.

Commissioner of Highways John Ford was in this village Monday. It is said that the road between here and Phoenixia will be top dressed with oil.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank all who were so very kind during the sickness and at the time of the sad death of my wife, Mary Corrigan Hughes. I feel especially grateful to the employees of the Columbia Shirt Co. and to the many friends for their floral remembrance.

TO LECTURE HERE.

Pastor Sturgeon to Discuss the World War on Sunday.

Pastor Menta Sturgeon, of New York City, has accepted an invitation to deliver a lecture Sunday forenoon at 10.30 o'clock at the American Mechanics' Hall, his subject being "The World on Fire."

Arrangements for this lecture have been made by some of our local citizens who communicated with Pastor Sturgeon and found that he could be here Sunday forenoon next. We congratulate these, and are pleased to welcome the pastor to our city. All Europe is ablaze with the most fearful and destructive war known in history. In a recent address, President Wilson said: "The whole world is on fire, and our nation is threatened." Everybody is asking what is the reason for a war in this age of great enlightenment, and why have such efforts been put forward for military preparation? Is it necessary for America to become a military power? What will be the result of this great conflict? These are serious questions which deserve careful consideration of every thoughtful person, without regard to political creed or religious belief. They will be ably discussed and clearly answered by Pastor Sturgeon in his lecture next Sunday.

It is stated that the Scriptures long ago foretold this war, pointed out when it would begin, what would be the results, and what will follow thereafter. These questions necessarily involve the peace and happiness of every person, and it is both timely and important that we consider them. We are glad Pastor Sturgeon has chosen this subject for his lecture here. Admission to the lecture will be free. All will be welcome.

If you invite people's opinion you're no right to sneer at them because they don't say what you wanted.—David Graham Phillips.

KINGSTON YOUTH WITH ARMY SOUTH OF TEXAS BORDER

Lieutenant Raymond Marsh Writes
Interestingly of Country and Its People—Fast Time Made by Artillery Over Dusty Road—Whit
Company M May Witness.

Something of soldiering in Mexico, likely to be a live subject for the boys of Company M in the near future, is contained in a letter from Lieutenant Raymond Marsh, Battery B, Sixth Field Artillery, U. S. A., who in a letter to a former teacher in Ulster Academy, of which he is an alumnus, gives a most interesting picture of army progress and unfamiliar scenes. The letter is furnished The Freeman by the courtesy of the recipient, and bears the date of May 28th last. The letter in part is as follows:

"I am writing at a point nearly 250 miles south of the border where ink is scarce and postage stamps not to be had at all, and letters are welcome. I have been in Mexico ever since this affair started, for my battery crossed the border at Culberson's ranch with the advance guard column at 1:14 a. m. on the sixteenth of March. We have not seen any actual fighting yet but we certainly have done some real soldiering. In the first two days' expedition we made a world's record for field artillery marching, for in that time we covered one hundred and twenty-eight miles. This may sound easy to you who are used to the forty miles an hour rate of autos and expresses, but to us it meant fourteen to sixteen hours a day of hard, steady riding. We feel proud of the record, for we lost only two horses, out of our one hundred and eighty doing it, and we didn't develop a single sore back, neck or shoulder. "Our battery has been as far south as San Antonio, which is only twelve miles east of Santa Fe. I saw where Villa perpetrated one of his outrages last winter. Just now we are encamped a few miles north of the village of Las Cruces on the Rio de Santa Maria.

Valley is Villa Stronghold. "This Santa Maria valley is Villa's stronghold. He spent his boyhood in this valley. He owns a house or two in every village and his first wife came from El Valle, only thirty miles north of us. His hands are pretty well driven out of here now, but every once in a while a band of them appears. Only last week a band of them jumped a patrol from this camp. A couple of troops of cavalry at once went in pursuit and the Villistas scattered leaving three dead behind. Corvantes, the leader, being among the dead. The skirmish, however, cost us one corporal killed and one private wounded.

Dust Deep on Roads. "We are at an elevation of about 7,000 feet and the dust is so deep that it is fairly scorching. The air is so dry and rare that the heat is not felt much. One fairly over perspires here. Until now the nights have been cold, very cold, but now they are only refreshingly cool. There is almost always a breeze stirring and that keeps us cool. "It also stirs up the dust which I assure you is a great annoyance. So many troops have moved over these roads and camped in these same clumps that everything is covered with inches of fine white alkali dust which the faintest breeze blows about in dense penetrating blinding clouds.

Generally Fine Country. "Generally speaking, however, this is a fine country. As a cow country, it far exceeds anything I ever saw in our own southwest. Under industrious irrigation it truly blossoms as the rose. The vast mineral wealth of the mountains is as yet untouched and higher up in the mountains are vast forests of huge pines. But under this present reign of brigandage farming has ceased, mines are closed, saw mills are silent and cattle are running wild.

Appearance of Villages. "The villages are universally formed of 'dobe' houses, very few of which have any windows. Usually each house is in one corner of a 'dobe' walled enclosure which is irrigated and in which one may see a few straggling fruit trees and an ill kept garden. Usually, too, each town has its plaza with some sort of church facing it. All towns are interesting, some are pretty, but the dirt!

Description of Natives. "The natives are the dirtiest, laziest, most worthless lot of humanity I have ever seen. They exist in the most abject poverty and the utmost squalor. "The expedition has been most interesting in many ways. Beside learning something about field service under real war conditions, the trip through this section of northern Mexico has been more than interesting.

Outlook Not Cheerful. "We have been supplied with rations, etc., by motor truck trains and they have rendered fine service. Our rations have been of the plainest sort but we have always had plenty. Our horses have not fared as well. For not once since we crossed the border have they had a full feed and sometimes they have had nothing more substantial to sustain them than our prayers. "The outcome of this expedition is, indeed, doubtful. Carranza is massing troops along our line of communication and frankly the outlook is not cheerful."

She Got It. Jack—As our engagement is to be a secret, I won't give you an engagement ring at present. Jill—Oh, I could wear it on my right hand!

A TALE OF TURKEY.

Queer Things That Happened in the Name of the Constitution.

The ignorance of the Turkish masses concerning political questions, says Sir Edwin Pears in "Forty Years in Constantinople," is shown by certain incidents of the revolution of 1908. The humors, or porters, in the towns, like the peasants in the country, when they heard that his majesty had sworn to be faithful to the constitution, inquired what it was. Was it a person? Was it a new caliph? And very few could give any clear explanation. The words "liberty" and "equality" meant something good, although they could not have said what. To some they signified general license.

Two English friends of mine were motoring outside Smyrna when a number of Turkish boys set upon them and hung stones at them. The Englishmen gave chase and caught the principal offenders. The eldest was asked why he had thrown stones.

"Hurriet var," was the reply. "There's liberty. We can do what we like now."

The Englishman replied, "Hurriet var, and I am at liberty to give you a good thrashing, am I not?"

One of the boys said yes, he supposed that would be so, but he hoped the liberty would not be used. The Englishman replied that it would not be used that time, but if the offense were repeated he would use it to the fullest extent.

The workmen on a newspaper during that time asked for a large increase of wages.

"To give them a constitution."

The tramway men struck for higher wages, and the only justification that they put forward was that there was now a constitution. Yet men of all classes cheered in the loudest manner for the constitution. Throughout the month of August smuggled tobacco was openly sold in the streets at a very cheap rate. Buyers and sellers alike considering that the constitution allowed men to set aside the law that had made the sale of tobacco a government monopoly.

FIRST TWO RACES FALL TO HARVARD

Crimson Oarsmen Easily Defeat Yale in Freshman and Junior Eight-oared Events at New London.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New London, Ct., June 23.—Crimson oarsmen swept the course on the Thames river today in the first two races of the annual Yale-Harvard regatta. Harvard took both the freshmen eight and 'Varsity junior eight races handily.

About 25,000 persons watched the aquatic struggles, which took place over a two-mile course. A stiff wind blew making the water choppy and necessitating a change in the course for the second race.

The first race, that of the freshmen, went to Harvard by two lengths. The Crimson took the junior eight contest by one length.

The main event, the 'Varsity eight, will be rowed late this afternoon. The two Harvard victories vindicated the Crimson's adoption of the combined American-English stroke. Yale used the pure English stroke, which has been much criticized by American experts.

The freshmen race started at 9:44 with Yale in the lead about 1/4 of a length. This was soon increased to one full length.

At the half mile mark the Yale boys, keeping up a steady stroke, increased their lead a little more. Both crews were racing strongly and neither was splashing. At the three-quarter mile Yale had a lead of two lengths. Harvard appeared to be holding its strength in reserve.

As they approached the first mile, both crews were pulling an even stroke.

Passing the half mile mark Yale was still leading, but Harvard had hit up the pace and was only a length behind. Both were going strong. With the race half over the Yale oarsmen also increased their stroke and increased their lead to a length and a half. Harvard's stroke was also quickened.

Show Speed in Spurt.

Both crews increased their stroke to 36 and then to 38 as they went into the stretch.

The Harvard crew was making a desperate effort to overhaul the blue shell, but the Yale men held out gamely. Nearing the finish, however, the Harvard boys used every ounce of reserve strength and passed the Yale boat as if it had been standing still.

In one of the most wonderful spurts ever witnessed in a boat race the Crimson crew snatched victory in the last 300 yards and crossed the finish line two lengths ahead of the Yale oarsmen.

The official time of the freshmen eight oared race was:

Junior Event is Delayed.

The 'Varsity junior eight was called out as soon as the freshmen race was over, but there was considerable delay in starting the second race owing to the failure of the referee's boat to appear.

The Yale crew had the west side of the river in the junior eight race. By ten-thirty the water had become very rough, and it was decided to start the race four miles up the river and have the finish two miles from the point where the freshmen race ended.

The two crews reached the new starting point at 10:40 but were not given the starting signal until 10:58. Yale got away in the lead by half a length, pulling a heavy stroke. It still held the lead after the crews had gone a quarter of a mile.

Nearing the half mile Harvard hit up its stroke, advancing to catch the Yale shell, but as the crews neared the end of the first mile the blue was still in the lead. The water was choppy, but neither crew splashed to any extent.

Harvard a Length to Good.

Yale also held up its stroke and still held the lead as they neared the end of the first mile. Harvard was pulling hard.

Passing the first mile mark Harvard jumped into the lead and pulled ahead until it was a length in front. Once more Yale quickened its stroke. Harvard was pulling evenly.

After the two shells had gone a mile and a quarter, Yale began to creep up with its rapid stroke. The crimson crew rowed evenly, apparently reserving its strength for the final spurt.

The crews were even at the mile and a half mark, but then Harvard put all its strength behind its strokes and took the lead. It maintained this during the last half mile and crossed the finish line a length to the good.

The official time for the junior 'Varsity was: Harvard 10:25; Yale 10:27.

PROMINENT PORT EWEN WOMAN

Mrs. Marian C. Cormack Died Thursday After a Brief Illness.

Mrs. Marian Crawford Cormack, wife of the late Henry M. Cormack, died Thursday at her home in Port Ewen. She was 65 years old and her illness was of brief duration. Mrs. Cormack had always enjoyed a robust constitution and her unexpected death was a severe shock to her family and friends. Endowed with a sweet and gentle disposition, she was esteemed by all and loved by those who knew her. She possessed a charming conversational ability that her friends appreciated and enjoyed.

Naturally of a benevolent and unselfish character, Mrs. Cormack was a constant source of inspiration and hope to those who had found life's burden too easy to carry. Her door and counsel were always open to those who needed such assistance, condition or creed proving no barrier. While devoted to her home and family, she still found time with her broad and charitable character, to quietly interest herself in any movement where good was to be accomplished. She lived a life that exemplified the highest type of noble womanhood. As president of the Port Ewen Suffrage Society, Mrs. Cormack conducted an energetic and successful campaign for the cause at the 1915 election.

Mr. and Mrs. Cormack were of Scotch parentage although both were born and reared on the Rock of Gibraltar—the great English fortress guarding the entrance to the Mediterranean Sea. As direct descendants, Mrs. Cormack is survived by one daughter, Miss Grace, and three sons, Frederick, Maurice and Donald, and two little grandsons, whose grief and loss is shared by a large circle of friends in Port Ewen and elsewhere.

War on High Prices at Shader's Saturday Sale!

The many housekeepers and others who patronize this market have cause to feel alarm over the oppressive wholesale prices of all kinds of foodstuffs, and we retailers are powerless to afford adequate relief. We, like other market people, do the best we can under the circumstances, lowering prices Saturdays until the "dead line" is reached. Still, the higher the wholesale quotations, the higher the qualities we maintain, giving patrons the most and the best their money will buy anywhere. That's some consolation.

ALPHONSO ASKED TO PREVENT WAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, June 23.—A determined effort is being made today by certain Latin-American diplomats in Washington, assisted by the Spanish ambassador, Senor Don Juan Riano Y Garrañon, to prevent war between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico. This was admitted today both at the Spanish embassy and by Don Rafael Zaldivar, the Salvadorean minister to this country. So far, all of the efforts to bring about an adjustment are centered in Mexico City where pressure is being brought to bear upon the Carranzista government. The United States has not yet been approached on the subject and according to Dr. Zaldivar, cannot be until Carranza acts, as the note of Secretary Lansing delivered last Tuesday places the next initiative in the hands of the Mexican government.

That important developments are expected, however, was shown by the announcement of Ambassador Riano that he had cancelled his plans to proceed tomorrow to Newport to open the summer embassy there and will remain in Washington for the present. At the same time it was stated at the Spanish embassy that yesterday Spanish citizens of Mexico City cabled King Alfonso of Spain asking him to use his good offices to prevent war between the United States and Mexico. So far, as now known here, no further action has been taken on this proposition.

Most of the Latin-American diplomats are out of the city but it was rumored here today that Dr. Domínguez de la Cueva, the Brazilian ambassador who is now in Loure Brann, and Dr. Naim, Argentine ambassador, also absent, may return to this city to initiate any movement looking toward mediation that may become possible after the Carranza reply to the latest American note is received.

So far no proposal of mediation has been brought officially to the attention of the United States government. Both at the White House and at the state department officials declined to discuss what action would be taken on such a proposition if made. In this connection officials said that they would be doubtful whether the question of issues are of a character that could be mediated.

Not For Mediation.

"The matters in dispute between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico are the murder of American citizens and outrages against American interests," said one of the president's chief advisers. "These are not questions, that, in my opinion, would lend themselves to mediation. It is my belief that complete acceptance by General Carranza of the principles enunciated in the president's note is the only way whereby the present crisis can be solved without recourse to arms."

When Secretary Lansing's attention was directed to the mediation reports, he said:

Administration is Pat.

"I know nothing about these suggestions and cannot discuss them."

Dr. Zaldivar, the Salvadorean minister said:

"I have discussed the crisis in the Mexican affair of the United States with such of my colleagues as now are in the city and have been in touch with others who are away. We stand ready to do anything that is in our power to prevent war. Of course, we cannot act until we know what decision the Carranzista government will reach toward the position of the United States as explained in the note sent forward last Tuesday. But we will do everything that lies in our power to avert an armed clash between the two nations."

Meanwhile the administration's attitude remained unchanged. President Wilson still is awaiting a complete report of the battle of Carrizal from General Pershing. A message received by Secretary of War Baker just before he entered the cabinet meeting today from General Pershing said that a complete report of the fight was on its way to him (Pershing) by special courier and that as soon as it is received it will be forwarded to Washington. Baker received from Pershing today the stories told by strategists who had reached his command and which had been already carried in the news dispatches from the border. The war secretary declined to make this report public on the ground that it was inconclusive. It was learned, however, that the report emphasized the treachery of the Mexicans and absolved entirely the Americans from blame for the encounter.

CLAIM SUCCESES IN AIR ATTACKS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, June 23.—Progress for the armies of both Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Linsingen in the eastern theater of war certain battles are reported in the official statement issued by the war office today.

On the western front, the report says, British troops attacked east of Ypres, in West Flanders, but were repulsed.

The text of the official report on the air encounter follows: "Aviation—Karlsruhe, Treves and Mulheim were attacked by enemy aircraft on Thursday. There were a number of civilian victims, but the military damage was insignificant. The attackers lost four machines. One landed at Niederbach, another at Lembach and two others were shot down in combats.

"Among the prisoners taken were two Englishmen. Lieut. Boehndorf, who was engaged, brought down his sixth opponent. Enemy machines were also shot down yesterday near Ypres, east of Hulluch (in Artois), and near Merxheim, southwest of Senheim. Altogether the enemy lost nine machines. Court Approves Bond.

Judge Jenkins has approved the bond of Joseph M. Fowler, as assignee for the benefit of creditors of Abram Mollet of this city. The bond is in the sum of $1,000.

HOME GUARD UNIT READY TO DEFEND

Kingston and Empire State Will be Safe in the Hands of Captain

Fowler's Command Numbering 100 Business and Professional Men.

With ninety-one members signed and a dozen waiting an opportunity to enroll, the Depot Company which is to serve within the state in the absence of Company M was organized amid much enthusiasm Thursday night at the armory. Any misunderstanding as to the service requirements of Class B was cleared away by explanations from Captain Everett Fowler and Major George Chandler, both of whom explained the duties of the reserve company and what would be expected of its members. In the local company leading business and professional men are enrolled.

Class A recruits will be composed of men who are willing to serve in the field and fill in any vacancies in the ranks of Company M.

Class B recruits, of which the greater part of the Depot Company will be made up, are men who do not desire active service in the field but who are willing to serve as a state force in a home station.

Major Chandler discussed the erroneous reports that have been circulated in regard to the objects of Class B and made it plain that such recruits were solely for duty within the borders of New York state. The organization of the reserve company was necessary, he said, before Company M could leave the armory. The speaker digressed to give his hearers some idea of men engaged in battles.

Officers are Named.

Captain Fowler read the heading on the paper that members had signed and pointed out the utter impossibility of members ever being called out for other than riot duty or in the protection of property within the state. Former members of the guard, ineligible for service, he said, are especially urged to join the depot company.

Organization of the company followed, with Captain Fowler being chosen captain. Joseph M. Fowler was chosen first lieutenant and John C. Mullen, first sergeant. Appointment of the other non-commissioned officers was left to the captain.

Utmost enthusiasm prevailed at the gathering at which seventy men were present. Wesley H. Rider, one of the volunteers, had a number of questions to ask as to the likelihood of tropical service and these were answered to his satisfaction. A number of men signed the articles and then adjournment was taken subject to the call of Captain Fowler. The latter stated that upon the departure of Company M, the reserve company would be expected to turn out at the armory and be in readiness to take charge, arms and uniforms to be issued later.

O'Ryan on Reserve Forces.

Speaking of the part of these reserve forces, Major General John F. O'Ryan said on Wednesday that among other details to be left at home stations must be inventoried, much of it for storage, and all of it involved for transfer to the commanding officer of the depot unit, who will be the custodian of the armory during the absence of the parent organization.

"The depot unit is an organization brought into being at the time of mobilization, to perform state functions during the absence of the parent organization in the federal service."

"It is desired that discharged National Guard soldiers who are not available for active service promptly apply to the depot unit of their old organizations for service in such units. The depot units have their own duties. The details for they are to be important training and giving elements instructions to recruits who are to bring the parent organizations to war strength."

BRITISH BLAME GERMANS.

U. S. Mexican Troubles Charged to Berlin by London Press.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, June 23.—Editorial comment by the British newspapers on the Mexican situation today is almost unanimous in holding German influence responsible for the present difficulties between Mexico and the United States.

A certain German influence is involved, even the counsels of Carranza himself are not free from the ubiquitous Tonton," says the Pall Mall Gazette. "No doubt President Wilson has a hard row to hoe. The situation demands vigorous action. The slightest false step is likely to have momentous consequences."

A policy with more consistency would prove a better assurance than the present attitude of drift.

Militia Measures Passed by Last Legislature Are Now Serving Useful Purpose—What Changes Are Made Possible Under New Laws.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, June 23.—As though seeming war complications, the legislature of 1916 passed over a score of bills amending the military law of the state, the end aimed at having been to reorganize the National Guard system so as to make the fighting machinery under the command of the governor more perfect and efficient. While these bills were exploited at the time of their discussion and passage, they are particularly interesting at this time also.

Senator John D. Stivers and Assemblyman J. Leslie Kincaid, chairman of the senate and assembly committees on military affairs, respectively, introduced and fathered the amendments, all of which were approved by General John F. O'Ryan, the commanding officer of the militia of the state of New York in the field.

The most important amendments follow:

Increasing the allowance for headquarters of a battalion or signal corps.

Providing for the establishment of a civil reserve list of persons qualified to serve in the militia.

Providing for the organization of National Guard unit depots to take the place of the regiments called to service by the federal government.

Providing for compulsory service in the militia in the state.

Providing for the reorganization of the naval militia so as to constitute a brigade of twenty-four divisions, or two battalions.

Providing that the governor shall be the only official authorized to order out the militia in time of riot. Heretofore the sheriff was vested with this authority.

Providing for the increasing of the strength of the National Guard in all of its branches.

Providing that the governor may in his discretion detail officers of the national guard from the retired list to active duty and to return them to such retired list. Officers retired because of age are not to be detailed to command troops; they are to be detailed for staff duty.

Providing for pensions for commissioned officers of the National Guard or the naval militia after twenty-five years. Certain provisions are made, however. The pensions are to equal seventy-five percent of the amount of pay at the time of retirement.

Reorganizing the hospital corps generally. This law increases the efficiency of this branch of the service and provides for additional officers and men.

Providing that the governor may from time to time organize at places other than the station of the command, training detachment of officers and men who shall form a part of such command.

Reorganizing the signal corps and providing for aeroplanes and other modern munitions.

Other laws were also enacted, but they were more of a corrective nature than the above. Many are technical and not so worded as to be understood by civilians.

Dust Off First.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, June 23.—Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice-president arrived here today, went immediately to the Waldorf-Astoria, and declined to discuss politics until after he had held conferences he had planned for later in the day.

Mr. Fairbanks will remain here until tomorrow afternoon.

"I intend to see several people in New York," he said, "but since I have not yet got the dust off my shoes, I cannot at this minute state exactly who I am going to see."

Orpet Will Take Stand.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Waukegan, Ill., June 23.—Will Orpet will take the stand in his own defense at his trial for the murder of Marion Lambert. This was announced today by his lawyers as the state rested its case at noon today. Orpet will be the witness upon whose testimony the whole case will hinge. His attorneys expressed the belief that the boy would not break down. Letters of Orpet to his sweetheart were again in evidence.

Enlists in Michigan.

William G. Auringer, formerly of this city, but now of Detroit, has joined the Company F, 31st Infantry, Michigan National Guard, which leaves this evening for camp at Grayling, Michigan.

Lay's Saturday Sale

There seems to be no question in the minds of retailers that the increased cost of all kinds of meats is due solely to the business methods of the large packers. A shortage of cattle may be accountable in a way, but it is a fact that wholesalers find no difficulty in supplying Europe with millions of pounds of meats at practically any price they care to charge. Consumers can do nothing but adopt a policy of "watchful waiting" and look to Washington for relief. Therefore, in common with all local butchers, must suffer a curtailment of profits if people in moderate circumstances are to be permitted to eat meat. We've cut profits to the quick for Saturday, as our week-end sale prices will show.

The Temperature.

Weather Forecast.

Washington, June 23.—Eastern New York—Probably fair tonight and Saturday; warmer Saturday; moderate westerly winds.

SUPT. ANDREWS IS AGAIN IN CHARGE

The school directors of the fourth supervisory district of Westchester county, comprising the towns of Hardenbergh, Olive, Shandaken and Woodstock, met at Odd Fellows' Hall, Phoenicia, for the purpose of electing a district superintendent. Sanford Schoonmaker of Woodstock was chairman and Edwin C. Chase of Oliveira clerk.

Wallace J. Andrews was nominated and unanimously elected superintendent for the ensuing term of five years. Mr. Andrews has already served one term as he was elected in 1911 when the state was first reorganized into supervisory districts. His re-election stamps his work with the approval of the people of his district.

During the five years he has served as superintendent, Mr. Andrews has proved himself to be an able administrator and an efficient educator. The education department when they organized the superintendent system did it with the idea of bringing the school and the community into closer touch with each other, and to get the schools out of politics as much as possible. Mr. Andrews has helped to carry out their idea by his cordial support and has emphasized this at the teachers' conference. He has shown by his work that he is a schoolman and not a politician.

Several new schoolhouses have been built in his district since his first election and a general spirit of progress is evident.

Superintendent Andrews has always taken a great interest in the teachers of his district and any teacher who is worthy of it can rest assured of his unqualified support. He has endeavored to inculcate a professional spirit among his teachers by securing the best talent in the state for instructors at his teachers' meetings.

The pupils of the schools with whom Mr. Andrews is very popular, will be pleased to know that they will have the pleasure of his visits again.

The board of directors extend their congratulations and best wishes for a prosperous term.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, June 23.—The funeral of Simon Wood at the home of Eli Osterhoudt on Wednesday was largely attended. The floral tributes in honor of the deceased from friends were beautiful.

The edifice under construction by James H. Enderly is nearing completion. His gardens surrounding his home are the envy of us all. He is a hustler.

A number have lost early chicks from the recent and continued rains.

Mrs. T. Quick has been ill but is improving at present.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke).

New York, June 23.—Racing officials undoubtedly will help the game if they increased the jockey weight standards. Many of the best horse pilots in the country have been forced into semi-idleness because 110 has been fixed as the poundage maximum for riders.

The older a jockey grows the brainier he becomes; the more he learns about racing. That makes him all the more valuable. But, on the other hand, added years increase his weight, no matter how he tries to fight it off, and many of the best men that ever straddled a pony have been forced out of the game because they cannot make 110.

Tommy McTaggart is one of the very greatest jockeys that this country ever produced. He is brainy to an extreme, he knows horses—and he knows how to handle them. But he gets very few mounts this year, because he has grown too bulky to sit astride the lightweight horses.

Many Jockeys Idle.

The same thing is true concerning Eddie Dugan, who, failing to get steady work because of increased weight, has gone to Russia. Loftus is another star rider who is getting leavy. J. McCarthy, Mike Miles, Joe Notter and Willie Shaw are in the same predicament.

Those jockeys, even to retain their jobs as utility men for horses that carry top weights, must go through strenuous exercise each day to keep as close to 110 as possible. They have to do six or eight miles of road work, take hot baths, diet, wear sweating clothes and do other health weakening stunts to keep in "working" condition.

"If the standard was boosted to 120 pounds, it would benefit racing all over the country," an official told us recently. "It would bring back into the saddles regularly some of the best men that ever rode a horse, and would mean that each horse, being straddled by an expert, would run his real race. Every horse would have the benefit of splendid driving. As it is now, the lightweighters are, for the most part, inexperienced youngsters. They are put on a horse and oftentimes kill his chance of victory, because of immature riding judgment." That's why there are so many form reversals on the turf today.

"If the maximum was boosted to 120 it would increase the burden for some horses, but that would be counter-balanced by the fact that the horses would have the benefit of skilled handling. And races then would not furnish so many upsets as they do now."

Sam McMeekin Comes Back.

Wonder if old Sam McMeekin read what we wrote about him recently?

Sam, you'll recollect, is a race horse who was sold for $15,000 by John Madden to August Belmont last summer. At the time he was a sensation. Immediately after donning the Belmont silks he began to act like a spavined hack animal.

Nor one race did he win as a 1915 Belmont entry. Belmont first entered him in stake events. Sam was outclassed. Later he entered him in first class selling plate races.

In these Sam also was beaten. When the present season began, Belmont janned him into a low priced "plate" event and then we wrote a story telling about Sam's disgrace.

Right from that moment Sammy performed a "come-back." Probably he got a bit puffed because we had "panned" him and he wanted to show that we had abused him unjustly. At any rate, Sam's record for this 1916 season, follows:

In eight starts he has been victorious on five occasions. He has been second twice and third once, so you see, he has finished in the money in each and every occasion.

Oh, no, Sammy hasn't beaten any real horses. He has been frisking around in the $100, $500 and $800 fields, but that doesn't alter the fact that he has won. That's the main thing in a race, no matter what sort of a race it is.

When the season began, Belmont probably would have traded Sammy for a neck of oats, but you'd have to bet the bid a little higher now. He's come to think pretty well of that horse by this time.

Hot Liners.

(By Frank G. Menke).

The Tigers' defeat at the hands of the Indians just when a victory would have given them the lead, sent them to third place. The Nationals jumped into second place by splitting a double header with the Athletics.

The bugaboo is still at the Polo Grounds. The Giants lost another extra inning contest. The Braves won out in the 11th.

With the lead almost in their hands the Phillies "broke" before the Dodgers' attack and went down to defeat in both games of the double header.

The Yanks' bats have been lost. Hitless on Wednesday, they could only gather three bingles yesterday.

The Pirate bats worked overtime at the expense of the Cardinals.

The Browns were neatly whitewashed by the White Sox.
